HOW S-400s NEUTRALISED THE ENEMY

The Air Force used the Russian-made S-400 missile defence system to obliterate Pakistan's escalation bid

Swarms of drones and missiles targeting Jammu airport neutralised; bid to bomb parts of Rajasthan, Punjab and J&K blocked; Indian follows principle of proportionate response

TENSIONS between India and Pakistan escalated on Thursday evening after Pakistani drone attacks were reported across parts of Jammu, Punjab and Rajasthan. The Indian air defence system responded swiftly, intercepting multiple drones, triggering air raid sirens and enforcing blackouts in border towns.

India's armed forces followed the principle of proportionate response and negated Pakistan's bid to escalate the conflict. Intense Pakistan shelling from across the border drew a similar response from India.

As the tension ratcheted up in the evening, US secretary of state Marco Rubio spoke to External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and called for "immediate de-escalation". He offered "support for direct dialogue between India and Pakistan and encouraged continued efforts to improve communications," US state department said.

Jaishankar said India "will firmly counter any attempts at escalation".

OPERATION SINDOOR

The chain of events began with Pakistan launching missiles and kamikaze drones targeting the Jammu airport, which also houses the Indian Air Force station, and the civilian areas around it. All missiles and drones were neutralised.

Soon after, explosions were reported in Punjab, followed by Pakistani shelling near Pathankot and Kupwara. Moments later, Pakistani drones were seen being intercepted over Rajasthan's Jaisalmer, with visible explosions and flashes lighting up the sky.

The situation quickly escalated as civil administrations across northern India moved into action. Hoshiarpur in Punjab declared an immediate blackout after loud explosions were heard. Amritsar, Chandigarh, Mohali, Panchkula, and parts of Barmer in Rajasthan soon followed. Debris believed to be from missiles was recovered from Kumahi Devi village near Hoshiarpur's Talwara, officials said.

"Military stations of Jammu, Pathankot and Udhampur in proximity to the International Boundary in J&K were targeted by Pakistan using missiles and drones. No losses. Threat neutralised by #IndianArmedForces as per SoP with kinetic & non-kinetic means," the Army said.

Besides, eight missiles from Pakistan directed at Satwari, Samba, RS Pura and Arnia were neutralised. Similarly, a bid to attack two ammunition depots in Jalandhar, drone attacks at the Pathankot airbase and the Shahpur Kandi dam were thwarted in Punjab.

Earlier, India had targeted Pakistani air defence systems, including one in Lahore, in response to overnight drone and missile attacks. These strikes came just a day after India carried out Operation Sindoor, targeting terror infrastructures in Pakistan, following the April 22 Pahalgam terrorist attack that killed 26 civilians.

'IC-814 hijacking mastermind Rauf Azhar killed'

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

ABDUL Rauf Azhar, Jaish-e-Mohammed founder Maulana Masood Azhar's brother and the terror outfit's operational head, was killed in India's airstrikes under Operation Sindoor, officials said on Thursday. The slain terrorist was considered the mastermind of the IC-814 hijacking in 1999 and involved in the 2001 Parliament attack.

Terming it major victory, officials said he was killed in the Indian strikes on the Bahawalpur terror hideout early on Wednesday.

Masood Azhar acknowledged that 10 members of his family and four of his close associates were killed in India's air strikes on JeM's headquarters.

Those killed included Masood Azhar's sister and brother-in-law. "Now we have confirmation from our sources in Pakistan that Rauf was killed along with 10 of Masood's family and four associates," a senior intelligence official said.

"Rauf Azhar's role in orchestrating the IC-814 hijacking directly facilitated the release of Omar Saeed Sheikh, a key Al-Qaeda operative who went on to kidnap and murder Daniel Pearl, an American-Jewish journalist with the Wall Street Journal," the official added.

INDIA'S AIR DEFENCE SYSTEM

ABHRA Medium Range Surface-to-Air Missile

ABHRA is a joint development between India's DRDO and Israel Aerospace Industries. It's a state-of-the-art air defence weapon system, range 70 km, designed to neutralise aerial threats and drones. It is powered by a dual-pulse solid propulsion system

AKASH: Mobile surface-to-air missile

The Akash missile system can engage targets up to a range of 25 km. It is a short-range surface-to-air missile (SAM) designed to protect from air attacks. The Akash system has been showcased for its ability to engage multiple targets simultaneously at this range

SPYDER air defence system: A workhorse

This air defence system includes the Elta EL/M-2106 ATAR radar, which can control missile firing units up to 10 km. It also includes Python-5 infrared missiles of range up to 12 km and Derby radar-guided missiles up to 50 km

PM meets officials, calls for emergency preparedness

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday chaired a high-level meeting with top officials from various ministries to review national preparedness and inter-ministerial coordination in light of the escalating conflict with Pakistan.

According to sources, several key issues were discussed in the meeting, including strengthening of civil defence, combating misinformation and fake news, and securing critical infrastructure.

The Cabinet secretary, senior officials from the prime minister's office, and secretaries from key ministries including defence, home affairs, external affairs, information & broadcasting, power, health, and telecommunications attended the meeting, sources said.

The secretaries were directed to conduct a comprehensive review of operations of their ministries and to ensure the fool-proof functioning of essential systems, with particular emphasis on readiness, emergency response, and internal communication.

Rubio calls Jaishankar, seeks quick de-escalation

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

AS tensions flare between India and Pakistan, US Secretary of State Marco Rubio on Thursday called for immediate de-escalation during a phone conversation with Indian External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar. He also spoke to his counterpart in Pakistan.

"The Secretary emphasised the need for immediate de-escalation. He expressed US support for direct dialogue between India and Pakistan and encouraged continued efforts to improve communications," said a statement. Rubio also offered condolences for the April 22 Pahalgam terror attack, in which 26 civilians were killed.

FOR NANJAPPA RD RESIDENTS, DIRTY WATER A WAY OF LIFE

People frequently complain of health problems like diarrhoea

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

IS Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) supplying contaminated water to residents of Shanti Nagar's Nanjappa Road? Yes, according to residents of the locality, which has over 250 houses.

BWSSB diverted the sewage line running from MG Road to Shanthi Nagar about 10 years ago. Since then, they have been getting contaminated water, especially during monsoon. If left unchecked, the sumps get filled with contaminated water, the residents said.

Renuka Prasad, founder president of Shanthinagar Residents' Welfare Association, said that despite bringing the matter to the notice of local MLA NA Harris and BWSSB officials several times, nothing has been done to rectify the problem.

"In the WhatsApp Group of the association, some residents have complained that they face health problems such as diarrhoea frequently due to water contamination. The problem should be addressed at the earliest," Prasad said.

A bucket of tap water collected by a resident in Shanthi Nagar | EXPRESS

Another resident said that the locality has been getting contaminated water for the past 10 years. BWSSB offers only temporary solutions such as cleaning sumps whenever contaminated water is supplied.

"We need a permanent solution. We can't get water pumped out of our sumps at regular intervals. The foul smell because of contaminated water is unbearable. If the civic officials and people's representatives are serious about the problem, they should get an FIR registered against the local BWSSB engineers under the Disaster Management Act," a senior citizen of the locality said.

People who have rented houses in the locality are planning to move away because of this problem. It is really surprising that the problem has not been fixed even after 10 years, a landlord in the locality said.

Nagaraj, executive engineer of BWSSB, Shanthi Nagar, said the water and sewage lines in the area were laid long ago. The problem is because of this.

"Work to fix the problem will be taken up under Unaccounted For Water (UFW) that aims at cutting down wastage of water and tenders will be invited soon. The sewage line from here, which is connected to the Intermediate Sewage Pumping Station (ISPS) near Shanthi Nagar Bus Depot, may have a problem. Work on ISPS is almost complete. In a month, all issues pertaining to water and sewage lines will be sorted out," he said.

Treated water to flow into Nelamangala lakes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

NELAMANGALA, on the outskirts of Bengaluru, will soon get its drinking water from Yettinahole. The groundwater table will be improved by filling up lakes with the water. After water of the Vrishabhavathi river near Nayandahalli is purified, it will be released into the lakes of Nelamangala taluk, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said here on Thursday.

Shivakumar, who is also Water Resources minister, addressed a gathering after performing bhoomi puja (ground breaking ceremony) in Nelamangala for filling up 70 lakes in the districts of Bengaluru Urban, Bengaluru Rural and Tumakuru. It will be done by purifying 240MLD water under the Vrishabhavathi Lift Irrigation Project.

"Our resolve is to make the lives of farmers better. During our term in office, we will work on behalf of farmers, we will protect farmers, and not break our promises. We are not providing sewage water with Vrishabhavathi," said Shivakumar, adding that this is a service for farmers from the government.

Shivakumar also used the platform to speak about the Mahadayi project, and stated that irrigation work in the state has been delayed due to issues related to forest land. "I met the Union environment minister on Wednesday and appealed to him about this. He said he will remove the obstacles to the Yettinahole and Mahadayi projects," the DCM said.

Shivakumar added that water from the river Arkavathy, which joins Nelamangala, was purified and diverted to Kolar through the KC Valley Project. He also lauded his party MLA Srinivas, saying, "He is a person who is working for the Metro to come to Nelamangala, and is demanding underground drainage and increase in groundwater. The entire government is standing in his favour," he said.

Forum: Allow pvt unaided colleges to set fees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Unaided PU College Management Boards Association (KUPMA) on Thursday submitted a petition to Primary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa, highlighting 19 pressing challenges faced by their colleges.

The petition included demands such as allowing private unaided colleges to determine their tuition fees, standardising infrastructure, intake, safety measures and exam formats across all PU colleges and permitting coaching for competitive exams as part of the regular curriculum.

KUPMA emphasised the need for equitable policies to ensure fair treatment of private unaided colleges, aligning them with government and aided institutions. The petition was submitted in the presence of Karnataka Legislative Assembly Speaker UT Khader. Bangarappa assured the forum that the demands will be considered within a time frame and appropriate action will be taken.

The meeting was attended by key education officials, including Principal Secretary Rashmi V Mahesh and PU Education Director Sindhu B Rupesh.

Indiranagar residents protest, but Palike holds bhoomi puja

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

EVEN as resident welfare associations of Indiranagar have been expressing fear that they may lose the only playground marked for Indiranagar Stage-1 and Stage-2, and BBMP proposing a stadium at a cost of Rs 6.5 crore, the bhoomi puja (groundbreaking ceremony) for the stadium was held on Thursday.

However, BBMP East Zone Commissioner Snehal R clarified that the playground will not lose its characteristic, and people and children will still have free access. She said the project is an upgrade of the existing basketball court.

Congress leader Abhilash Reddy, supporting the claims, said news about enclosing the ground, and poor children being denied entry, is false. "The basketball court of Indiranagar will get a facelift. The court will have a synthetic floor, it will have new seating arrangements. There is no question of the entire playground being covered," he said.

Recently, the resident welfare association — I Change Indiranagar — petitioned the zonal commissioner, stating that this is the only open ground and if it is turned into a covered stadium, it will deny access to poor, middle and low income groups, and schoolchildren in surrounding areas who use the playground for physical activity.

The residents say that in 2017, when attempts were made to convert the ground into a stadium, a stay was obtained.

Colleges go for specialised courses as demand for conventional ones dips

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

WHILE most colleges close admissions by early April, several private institutions in the city are still accepting applications due to a noticeable decline in demand for conventional courses such as BA (general) and BCom (general), as students are increasingly opting for specialised programmes.

Courses such as BCom Honours in Finance, BA Honours in Economics and Psychology, and BCA with a focus on cybersecurity are in demand.

"While the Unified University and College Management System (UUCMS) is the official platform for undergraduate admissions, the portal is yet to open for the academic year 2025-26. To avoid delays, several colleges have begun accepting applications directly, keeping the admissions open with plans to upload student data to the UUCMS once it goes live," a representative of a private college said.

To meet the demand for specialised courses, Mount Carmel College introduced many new programmes this year, including BSc in Computational Biology, BBA in Fintech and Digital Finance, BCom in Fintech and Digital Banking, and BCom in Business Analytics, Registrar (Academics) Suma Singh told TNIE.

While specialised BCom courses are in demand, conventional programmes such as BSc general and BA continue to witness relatively low interest. Psychology remains one of the most sought-after courses, Suma said.

Jyoti Nivas and St Joseph's colleges have reported similar trends with demand for specialised courses in Commerce and Psychology, according to representatives of these institutions.

This year, 6.37 lakh students appeared for II PU exams in the state, with 4.08 lakh clearing them. The Science stream saw the highest number of students passing out at 2.31 lakh, though over half of them are aiming for engineering or medical seats. Faculty members of a few colleges said there is a sharp decline in demand for BSc courses. They are being considered as a backup by those who do not make it to professional courses. While 81,553 students passed in the Arts stream, there is a decline in the number opting for BA courses. Most of the 1.55 lakh students, who cleared Commerce exam, are keen on specialised BCom and BBA courses. Career options such as Chartered Accountancy (CA) and Company Secretary (CS) are becoming popular among students.

PETER VIDAL

09th May: Today's top signs are Leo and Libra which, when you put them together, are perfect for theatrical, colourful and sensitive people. For all of us, it's a day to put on our finery and enjoy the civilised things of the world - good food, great art and pleasant company.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
In spite of the fact that everyone appears determined to pick up the wrong end of the stick, this does seem to be a good time to at least attempt to communicate. There is bound to be some considerable exaggeration, but if you take big promises with a pinch of salt, then you should protect yourself against major blunders.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The next forty-eight hours should raise the financial temperature. Do concentrate on your own interests, in spite of the fact the others may have their own rather complex demands. Partners could still be rather fractious, and a loved one may need placating.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
The Moon is now offering you a great deal of encouragement and you may right wrongs, make up for injustices and generally correct a serious personal imbalance. Don't imagine that you can get away with half-measures, though. It's time to go the whole way.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Make the fullest possible advantage of a series of splendid planetary aspects. Probably the prime consideration is to see that you take a little time off by yourself. Also, please don't believe unfounded rumours or imagine that others are undermining you.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You've got more personal choices coming up. The question is whether you would rather spend time with friends who may be pleasant but dull, or with intimate partners who may be highly stimulating but also rather complicated and unpredictable.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
If you have not already had some sort of completely random and ill-considered argument, whether with a close partner or a complete stranger, it may yet happen. Mind you, sometimes it does you good to blow your top! It's just that you have to clear up the mess afterwards!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
What comes to light over the next few days should strengthen your bargaining power. You should check out any legal, ethical or long-term issues today, so that when an opportunity does come along, you are well primed - and can do your best by other people.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You do have a sense of humour, even if some people don't believe it! The moment has come for you to lead others a merry dance - which is just what they deserve. Do keep a very careful eye on the financial situation, partly because a partner is liable to take up a rather extreme position.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Now that one series of intensely personal planetary aspects is on the wane, you should begin to feel slightly less hassled. Yet don't expect genuine relaxation until after another few days have passed. Actually, you're most relaxed when you're busy!

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You should spend a little time tuning your body up, with special attention to exercise and diet. You are slightly sensitive at the moment, and any emotional stress could leave you feeling under the weather. That's why partners should be nice to you! I know it, and you know it, but I hope they know it!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may leave yourself enough time for a spot of self-indulgence, but should realise that certain planets are tipping you into excess. That would never do! Remember the dangers of swinging to emotional extremes or of putting too many demands on partners.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is still a considerable amount of tension, but life could be extremely exciting if you have a private goal that you are determined to achieve. Only Pisceans who are totally dedicated to a passive lifestyle will resent all those mounting personal pressures.

25 Years of Empowerment

NGVCT's Silver Jubilee Celebration Marks a Legacy of Change

The Navodaya Grama Vikas Charitable Trust (NGVCT) celebrated its Silver Jubilee with a grand event at Goldfinch City in Bangrakuloor, Mangaluru yesterday. This milestone marks 25 years of groundbreaking work under the visionary leadership of Dr. M.N. Rajendra Kumar, the founder of the Trust and the driving force behind its success. The celebration promises to be a reflection of the Trust's enduring commitment to uplifting rural communities through economic empowerment and social development.

The story of NGVCT began on January 29, 2000, when Dr. Rajendra Kumar launched the Navodaya Self Help Groups (SHGs) initiative with a mission to help rural populations achieve economic self-sufficiency. The programme was designed to empower individuals, particularly women, by providing them with the tools and resources to lead dignified, self-reliant lives.

Over the years, the SHG initiative has grown exponentially, with women comprising 80% of its members. This strong female participation has been a cornerstone of the programme's success. Today, the Trust's SHGs boast total savings of around Rs 315 crores, a clear reflection of the financial independence it has fostered among its members. Through a motto of "By the members, of the members, and for the members," NGVCT has empowered individuals across Karnataka to realise their full potential.

The formal establishment of NGVCT on October 17, 2004, at the sacred Shree Mookambika Temple in Kollur was a key moment in the Trust's history. It enabled the organisation to better manage SHG operations and implement a wide array of developmental programmes. As the Trust celebrates its Silver Jubilee, it stands proud of its far-reaching impact, which now extends to multiple districts in Karnataka, including Udupi, Uttara Kannada, Shimoga, Davanagere, and Chikmagalur. The opening of Navodaya Vividodhesha Sowharda Sahakari Niyamitha, with 15 branches across the state, has solidified its role in economic empowerment at the state level.

A significant part of NGVCT's mission has been the focus on training and skill development. The Trust regularly conducts Taluk and District-level conferences, offering SHG members opportunities for both social and financial empowerment. The Trust's commitment to education is also evident in its training and orientation programmes, which cover everything from savings and credit linkage to self-employment opportunities. These efforts ensure that SHG members are equipped with the knowledge and resources necessary to succeed.

Beyond economic empowerment, NGVCT has demonstrated a deep commitment to the health and well-being of its members. The Chaithanya Health Scheme, for example, provides medical reimbursement for SHG members, as well as financial support in the event of accidental death. In addition, the Santhwana Scheme offers financial assistance to the families of deceased SHG members, with over 2,600 families having benefited from this initiative.

The Trust's recognition has come not only from the rural communities it serves but also from prestigious institutions. NGVCT has been honoured with numerous awards, including the NABARD Best Self Help Organization Award and the Rotary India International Award for women's empowerment through microfinance. Furthermore, the Reserve Bank of India has acknowledged NGVCT's exemplary work in managing SHGs.

Dr. M.N. Rajendra Kumar, known as "Sahakara Rathna," has played an instrumental role in the growth and success of NGVCT. Currently serving as the President of the Karnataka State Cooperative Marketing Federation and the South Canara District Central Co-operative Bank, he continues to be a driving force in the cooperative sector. His leadership extends beyond NGVCT; he was also elected President of the National Press Council of India SCR by the Union Government's Ministry of Corporate Affairs and Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment.

NGVCT's contributions extend far beyond economic development. The Trust has supported a wide range of social initiatives, from distributing uniforms to SHG members to providing scholarships for over 1,400 children. Its social outreach also includes supporting cultural festivals, religious programmes, and legal aid services. In addition, NGVCT has been a staunch supporter of medical financial aid for those in need, including people suffering from serious illnesses like cancer and AIDS.

When crises hit, NGVCT has consistently stepped up to help. In the aftermath of natural disasters, the Trust made substantial donations to the Uttarakhand flood relief fund and distributed thousands of sarees to flood victims in Kodagu and Kerala.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, it provided food kits to SHG members and frontline workers and financial assistance to families affected by the virus. The Trust also stepped in to provide a Rs 2 lakh incentive to the police team that successfully apprehended the accused in the Mysore rape case.

As NGVCT celebrates its Silver Jubilee, the Trust stands as a beacon of hope for rural communities across Karnataka. Its work continues to transform lives, create opportunities, and promote a vision of "Village India," where individuals and families are empowered to thrive with dignity and unity. Under the continued guidance of Dr. M.N. Rajendra Kumar, NGVCT's influence will likely grow even stronger in the years to come.

State cabinet to discuss BC quota today, lob ball into Centre's court

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ BENGALURU:

WHEN the Karnataka cabinet meets on Friday, it is likely to discuss enhancement of the backward classes quota from 32 per cent to 51 per cent, one of the key recommendations of the Karnataka State Backward Classes Commission headed by Jayaprakash Hedge. The commission had submitted the report, including recommendations based on the Socio-Economic and Educational Survey-2015 (SES-2015), to the government.

Friday's meeting will not exclusively discuss the SES-2015, which is one of the subjects on the agenda. The cabinet may agree on enhancement of quota, with an argument that there are no legal hurdles, and lob the ball into the Centre's court for its approval.

"Under the changing circumstances, the government has enhanced reservation of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes from 18 per cent to 24 per cent. Consequently, 56 per cent of reservation exists in the state. The Central government has implemented 10 per cent reservation for the Economically Weaker Sections (EWS). Therefore, the point that reservation quota should be confined at 50 per cent, as contended in the case (Indira Sawhney vs Union of India and others) filed before the Supreme Court is not in place," the commission clarified in its report. Tamil Nadu and Jharkhand have adopted the reservation ceiling, enhancing it to 69 per cent and 77 per cent respectively, based on the population, it noted.

One of the key recommendations is to apply the policy of creamy layer to all BC categories which may come up for discussion, according to sources.

The enhancement of quota from 4 to 6 per cent for Category-1A (including nomadic and semi-nomadic castes), 7 to 12 per cent for Category-1B (Kurubas & others), 7 to 10 per cent for Category-2A (Other Backward Classes), 5 to 8 per cent for Category-2B (Muslims & sub-castes), 4 to 7 per cent for Category-3A (Vokkaligas & others) and 5 to 8 per cent for Category-3B (Lingayats and others) was recommended.

There might be a dispute in the restructuring of quota and shifting Kurubas from 2A to 1B, but ministers are unlikely to confront the Chief Minister, who also hails from the Kuruba community, a leader observed. In the last cabinet meeting, however, DCM DK Shivakumar had made an indirect reference, according to a source.

Both Hegde, who made recommendations while submitting the report in 2024, and former chairman of the commission H Kantharaju, under whose leadership the SES-2015 was conducted, defended restructuring of the quota. They attributed it to the analysis done on the data and marks given to communities based on their socio-economic and educational backwardness.

In a changed scenario, since the Centre has announced the national census including caste census, it is to be seen whether the Vokkaliga and Veerashaiva Lingayat communities' leadership continue to press the state government for a fresh survey or not, according to analysts. They were disputing the SES-2015 as their numbers are undercounted.

Meanwhile, the ministers who had studied the data furnished to them are likely to submit their opinion on SES-2015 confidentially, but in writing to the CM, who has given them this option.

FORUM APPEALS TO LIST 'MADIGA' CASTE IN SURVEY

MYSURU: Karnataka State Local Bodies Scavengers' Association state president and former mayor Narayana has urged all sanitation workers across the state to mention their caste as 'Madiga' during the ongoing internal reservation survey carried out by the Justice Nagamohan Das Commission. Narayana appealed to sanitation workers and residents of various colonies to actively participate in the process and ensure that Column No. 61 of the form clearly mentions Madiga as their caste. He called upon office-bearers of local associations, village leaders, and women to support this effort and guide the community through the survey process. Highlighting the plight of the Madiga community, Narayana stated that in South Karnataka districts including Chamarajanagar, Mysuru, Mandya, Kodagu, Hassan, Ramanagara, and Mangaluru, a significant number of Madiga members have been traditionally engaged in sanitation-related occupations such as pourakarmikas, safai karamcharis, manhole scavengers, and cobblers. Despite their contributions, he said they have historically been deprived of reservation, due to the dominance of stronger communities among the SC.

SC CENSUS PROGRESSES WITH 1.86 LAKH PEOPLE ENUMERATED

BENGALURU: The Justice HN Nagamohan Das commission that launched the comprehensive census of 101 castes under the Scheduled Castes (SC) category on May 5 across the state, covered 1,86,800 people by Wednesday. On Day 1, as many as 10,746 people were being enumerated, and on May 6, the tally reached 1,32,233. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's government had commissioned the census to provide internal quota for members of the SC castes. Between May 5 and May 17, from 6.30 am to 6.30 pm, 65,000 trained enumerators, teachers and anganwadi workers, will undertake the task. From May 19 to May 29, the concerned people belong to the SC communities can enumerate their castes at special camps, while between May 19 and May 23, they can register online.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah inaugurates development programmes, as minister N Chaluvarayaswamy looks on, in Mandya on Thursday | EXPRESS

Take AHINDA members, poor along, they have supported Congress: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday said the people of Mandya have stood by his leadership for decades, and advised district in-charge minister N Chaluvarayaswamy and others to take members of the AHINDA community and the poor along, since they have supported the Grand Old Party.

Disputing the JDS' claims that it has contributed to the development of Mandya, Siddaramaiah said it was he who sanctioned a medical college and agriculture university for the district, and also released sufficient funds for the Mysugar factory. Without naming Union minister HD Kumaraswamy, Siddaramaiah said the medical college was sanctioned during the tenure of N Dharam Singh as chief minister.

Speaking after laying the foundation for the DCC bank head office and Kuruba Sangha hostel, and unveiling a statue of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, he said the government gave Rs 50 crore assistance to the Mysugar factory and waived off power bills.

He said the state produced 148 lakh metric tonnes of food grains during the previous years, and received copious rain, despite the BJP-JDS claiming that Karnataka is always affected by drought under Siddaramaiah's rule.

Hitting out at the BJP for saying that the state would go bankrupt after implementing the guarantee schemes, Siddaramaiah said they have earmarked Rs 1.35 lakh crore for the development works and charged that the BJP is against social sector programmes, and not in favour of farmers, the poor, women, Dalits, minorities, and backward communities.

Lauding the people of Mandya for contributing to food production, he said that the government has spent enough on irrigation projects and developments in all the taluks.

Separately, the chief minister said he has sanctioned Rs 2 crore for the Kuruba community hostel and assured funds to construct facilities for more than a hundred students from the backward communities.

Mahasabha advice: Give only name, number

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE powerful Veerashaiva Mahasabha finds itself in a spot of discomfort as the government's contentious Scheduled Caste survey, led by a commission under Justice Nagamohan Das, gathers steam.

The commission, which began collecting detailed data on May 5, has set off complaints of confusion, particularly among non-SC communities.

Seeking to end the confusion, Mahasabha president and Davangere South MLA Shamanur Shivashankarappa issued a statement, insisting that non-SC citizens, especially Lingayats, only need to provide the name of the family head and total number of family members. "The list of 44 data points is meant for SC respondents," he said.

'Citizens caught off-guard'

With the Mahasabha ramping up its organizational strength, having held elections in over 150 taluks, Shivashankarappa issued a call to all 178 local units to spread the word that Lingayats are not required to disclose all details to enumerators.

Mahasabha secretary Renuka Prasanna reported complaints pouring in from bewildered citizens caught off-guard by surveyors at their doorsteps. "There is confusion. The commission must issue an immediate clarification," he urged.

Convicted: Gali Janardhan Reddy loses MLA post

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Legislative Assembly has disqualified senior BJP leader Gali Janardhan Reddy from the post of MLA for a period of six years, as he has been convicted in the illegal mining case by a CBI court in Hyderabad.

Presently, Reddy is serving as MLA from Gangavathi. According to the notification issued by Assembly secretary MK Vishalakshi, "Consequent upon conviction of Gali Janardhan Reddy, representing the Gangavathi Assembly constituency by the court of the Principal Special Judge for CBI cases, he stands disqualified from the membership of Karnataka Legislative Assembly from the date of the conviction (May 6, 2025)."

It also stated that in terms of the provisions of Article 19(1) (e) of the Constitution, with Section 8 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, and such disqualification shall continue for a further period of six years since his release, unless the conviction is paid by a competent court.

Hence, one seat of the Assembly has fallen vacant. Reddy had started his own party and contested for the Gangavathi Assembly constituency in the 2023 polls, where he won from his Kalyana Rajya Pragathi Paksha. He rejoined BJP in March 2024.

Literary workshop for prison inmates lauded

MYSURU: Writer and professor Morabada Mallikarjun lauded the Karnataka Sahitya Academy for organising a rare and exceptional literary workshop for prison inmates. He remarked that such an initiative is both unique and commendable, highlighting its potential to bring about transformative change. The workshop, held at the Central Prison in Mysuru, is a joint initiative of the Karnataka Sahitya Academy, the Department of Prisons, and the Mysuru Central Prison. On the second day of the event, held on Thursday, Morabada delivered a talk on 'The World of Poetry'. Speaking to the inmates, Morabada emphasised that Kannada poetry instills confidence, hope, joy, and celebration. He noted that poetry offers everyone the opportunity to improve and move forward in life. "Poetry provides peace and renewed hope. Prisoners too must recognise and embrace this," he advised. Karnataka Sahitya Academy executive committee member Prof Chandrakiran Kulavadi also addressed the gathering, stating that "Literature, art, music, and culture are powerful tools that can transform our lives."

BJP extends support to KPSC candidates

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE BJP extended full support to the candidates fighting against the alleged injustice by the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC).

Leader of Opposition in the Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy said the BJP will extend its full support to the candidates and stand with them. During a meeting with BJP leaders Narayanaswamy, the party state president BY Vijayendra, and Opposition Chief Whip in the Council N Ravi Kumar, the KPSC candidates explained about the injustice in the examinations.

The BJP leader said around 70,000 candidates wrote the exams in Kannada. Around 70-80 questions in the Kannada version of the question paper had errors. Only a few of them went to court, and there was an order for conducting a re-examination, he said. When the issue was raised in the Council, the CM had assured of protecting the interests of candidates, but the government was still dilly-dallying over conducting a re-examination, he said.

He said even in the examination conducted earlier this week, question papers did not reach the examination centres in time, and when the students questioned, the police acted against them. Is it correct to take police action against candidates, the BJP leader questioned.

Special pujas across state for country's win

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH India carrying out Operation Sindoor and destroying terror infrastructure in Pakistan, and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir, special pujas and prayers were offered in the name of the country and our Armed Forces at various religious places, including temples.

While there was a special puja organised by temples across the state on Thursday, special prayers will be also held in mosques on Friday. Also, the state government will be organising a 'Tiranga Yatra' on Friday, extending its support to the Armed Forces.

Led by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, the yatra will be undertaken from KR Circle to Minsk Square on Friday morning. Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar has given a call to various party leaders, citizens, government and private employees, writers, representatives from the film industry, and others to take part in the rally.

Special pujas were held at state-managed temples on Thursday, across the state, while a circular was issued by the Karnataka Hindu Religious Institutions and Charitable Endowments Department on Wednesday. Pujas were also held at various mutts during the day. Meanwhile, Waqf and Minority Affairs Minister BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan directed all the mosques that come under the Wakf Board to hold special prayers for the Armed Forces on Friday. He has written to the Karnataka State Wakf Board, stating that after terrorists killed 26 Indian tourists in Pahalgam, Kashmir, the Indian Armed Forces have launched Operation Sindoor and destroyed terror camps across the international border. "The soldiers are displaying courage and trying to restore peace. We are directing mosques belonging to the Wakf Board and also other places of worship to hold special prayers for the forces," he said.

Meanwhile, BJP members are also conducting special pujas at temples in the name of Operation Sindoor. In Bengaluru, BJP state president BY Vijayendra and other leaders offered pujas at Lakshmi Narasimhaswamy temple in Malleswaram.

MOCK DRILLS IN MYSURU TOO

BENGALURU: The State government has chosen Mysuru to conduct mock drills, besides three other districts, said Home Minister G Parameshwara. He said that as per the intelligence department, various districts have been chosen to conduct mock drills. The government has provided more security to dams, thermal plants and other strategic places, and we have sufficient security personnel, Parameshwara told reporters on Thursday. "After the Pahalgam attack, we've got certain instructions from the Union government regarding security. They chose three districts to conduct mock drills and additionally, we have chosen Mysuru," he said.

Mock drills to be held in and around Karwar on May 12

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @Karwar

THE Karwar district ddministration will hold a mock drill on May 12 in and around Karwar.

The Ministry for Home Affairs had ordered for mock drills in 300 districts with vital installations in the country. Among them three are in Karnataka-- Bengaluru, Karwar and Raichur.

"We are scheduled as Category 2 by the Ministry of Home Affairs. The mock drill will be held on May 12. Earlier there was some confusion regarding the places of Uttara Kannada, since our district fell into Category 2 based on the vital installations here," said Uttara Kannada DC Lakshmi Priya.

Several different drills are scheduled in the district -- fire rescue operations, evacuations, building collapse, blackout and so on. "We request the public not to panic. All we need is their cooperation as it is done in public interest," said the DC, Uttara Kannada.

The mock drill will begin from Grasim Industries in the outskirts of Karwar with rescue operations in case of a building collapse. Forty persons who will act as victims will be taken to Grasim where the mock rescue will be conducted by the employees of Grasim India, NDRF, fire and emergency service, revenue, doctors and others. The victim will be taken to KrIMS. This drill will commence at 4 pm on May 12.

Another mock drill is aimed at fire-fighting in case of emergency has been organised at the civilian colony at Naval base at Amdalli near Karwar where the mock drill aims at exercises of rescuing people in case of enemy attack, where the rescued persons will be taken to Naval Hospital INS Patanjali.

A drill to set up a temporary hospital is also scheduled after this. The hospital will come up at Baithkol adjacent to Karwar at 5 pm.

Kaiga Nuclear Power Station will conduct a fire fighting drill, where the doctors, revenue officials and the police will cooperate. The beach evacuation is planned on Rabindranath Tagore Beach in Karwar where the tourists on the beach will be brought to a safer place at selected points at DC Uttara Kannada office premises and other places."

"The mock drill is aimed at the exercise in case of enemy attack via air. The coastal police and the tourism department will play vital role in this," said the DC.

The two dams of Kadra and Kodasalli, if attacked, it may cause flooding. The district has planned a mock drill to evacuate people to a safer place.

The complete blackout is also planned out where the CMC Karwar and Kaiga township and other places will turn off the lights following a siren.

In a surprise move, police teams carried out raids on the houses of over 100 rowdy-sheeters across various localities of Gadag city and the taluks of the district on Thursday

Neighbour smothers 8-yr-old boy to death after children quarrel

Spat breaks out between the two families after boy beats daughters of accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IT was child's play, but it ended in murder.

An eight-year-old boy was killed by his neighbour after a quarrel broke out between the two families over the boy beating the daughters of the accused.

The police have booked the accused, Chandeswar Matur (36) who hails from Bihar, for murder and remanded him in judicial custody.

The boy, Ramananda, while playing with the daughters of the accused, allegedly hit them, which led to a quarrel between the families for over a week.

The accused is a security guard. He killed the boy, packed the body in a gunny bag and dumped it on the bank of the Rayasandra Lake in the Parappana Agrahara police station limits.

Ramananda's family lives at Doddamara Road in Rayasandra. His father worked as a security guard and his mother was a domestic worker in an apartment. The parents had not enrolled him in the school. Matur was a security guard at an apartment complex in southeast Bengaluru.

Matur lived with his wife and two daughters, in a house opposite Ramananda's. Both families hailed from Bihar.

According to the police, Ramananda often fought with Matur's daughters while playing, and allegedly beat them.

Matur had warned him several times not to harm his children. The frequent fights between the children eventually escalated into arguments between the families.

As both the parents went to work during the day, the children left at home, often played together and fought, leading to disputes among the parents when they returned in the evening.

On May 6, Matur, who was drunk, spoke kindly to Ramananda and took him for a walk around 6.40 pm. He then allegedly smothered the boy near the Rayasandra Lake, packed the body in a gunny bag and disposed of the body near the lakebed before returning home, the police said.

The police added that the boy's parents searched for him. The next day, the families got into a heated argument, prompting a local resident to alert the police. The police brought both families in for questioning. Ramananda's parents suspected that Matur had kidnapped their son. Upon checking the CCTV footage, Matur was seen walking with the boy. He later confessed to the murder, the police said.

B'luru accounts for 44% of vehicle thefts in K'taka

RAKSHITH GOWDA @ Bengaluru

THE number of vehicle registrations in Bengaluru continues to rise each day, and so are the cases of vehicle thefts. In the last three months, the city accounted for nearly 44% of all vehicle thefts reported in Karnataka. On average, around 350 bikes are stolen here every month, with two-wheelers being the most commonly targeted. Despite the extensive network of CCTV cameras across Bengaluru, the success rate in solving these cases remains low. A senior police officer said that "black spots" are hotspots for theft.

Data from the State Crime Records Bureau shows that 2,473 vehicle theft cases were registered in the months of January, February and March, across the state. Of these, Bengaluru alone reported 1,106 cases. In 2024, the state recorded 11,610 vehicle theft cases, while Bengaluru saw 5,241 cases.

According to police data, 1,368 vehicles were stolen in the city till April 25, 2025. Among them, 1,327 were two-wheelers, 24 were cars, 13 were bicycles, and four were trucks. In comparison, 5,828 vehicles were stolen in 2023, and 5,241 in 2024.

Speaking to TNIE, DCP (North East division) Sajeeth VJ said the city police conducted a study on vehicle theft and found that two-wheelers are commonly stolen in 'black spots'. The study revealed that many vehicle owners, in an attempt to avoid parking charges, park their two-wheelers near these black spots — often close to malls, Metro stations, and other public spaces. Habitual offenders are aware of these spots and take advantage of this. In residential areas, people without designated parking often leave their vehicles on the roadside, where a lack of CCTV coverage makes it easier for thieves to break in and steal them, he added.

He further noted that stolen vehicles are often used to facilitate other criminal activities, including smuggling, robberies, and even violent crimes. The use of stolen vehicles complicates investigations, as some suspects have been traced only after police followed up on vehicle number plates, but found the vehicles stolen.

Sajeeth explained that recovering stolen two-wheelers is challenging. Often, these vehicles are dismantled and their parts sold separately. Interstate gangs enter the city, steal bikes, and transport them to other states, making recovery even more difficult. Stolen bikes are sold in rural areas at low prices or listed on online platforms for resale. Criminals often change or remove number plates to avoid detection. He also pointed out that even when accused are arrested and vehicles are recovered, the accused often secure bail and return to theft. He urged the public to park their vehicles in designated areas and install anti-theft alarms in two-wheelers.

Another senior officer mentioned that the majority of thefts involve two-wheelers, while thefts of four-wheelers and heavy vehicles are less frequent due to the higher risks involved. Two-wheelers are easier to steal, as their handle locks can be broken and the engines started directly. Meanwhile, heavy vehicles are often targeted for their valuable parts — such as mag wheels, batteries, and other expensive components. While some of these cases are reported, many go unreported.

Nadda to visit Suhas' family on May 11, BJP says gaps in police probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

Bharatiya Janata Party national president and Union Health and Family Welfare Minister J P Nadda will visit murdered Hindutva activist Suhas Shetty's family at their house near Mangaluru on May 11 to offer his condolences. BJP leaders said Nadda will visit Shetty's house during his two-day tour to Dakshina Kannada district on May 11 and 12. On May 11, he will also visit Sri Manjunatha temple in Dharmasthala.

Karnataka BJP president BY Vijayendra, Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka and other BJP leaders will meet Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot on May 9 and urge him to hand over Shetty's murder case to the National Investigation Agency.

Meanwhile, a delegation of the BJP, led by its state general secretary V Sunil Kumar and involving Dakshina Kannada MP Capt. Brijesh Chowta, MLAs and MLCs, met Mangaluru City Police Commissioner Anupam Agrawal on Thursday and expressed their dissatisfaction over the investigation into the Shetty murder case. In a petition, they highlighted what they called several gaps at different stages of the investigation. It said a month prior to Shetty's murder, he received a life threat on social media but the police did not act on it. They suspected a large-scale financial network, both domestic and international, backing Shetty's murder with banned PFI playing a vital role in it.

They said despite the viral video of Shetty's murder showing the assailants openly using deadly weapons, while another group assisted in their escape from the scene, they said only eight people have been arrested so far, and there is no trace of others found in the video. "The brutal murder of Suhas Shetty occurred in front of the SDPI office, and seven or eight individuals emerged from the SDPI office with deadly weapons and attacked Suhas, according to eyewitnesses," the petition alleged.

Further, they said that after the murder, the police should have focused on identifying the perpetrators, their backgrounds, and those who assisted them. Instead, the BJP alleged that the police are raiding the homes of Hindu activists at midnight. "This is not just about the murder of Suhas Shetty. It poses a challenge to the country's internal security, communal harmony, and the integrity of the democratic law enforcement system, as banned organisations, communal extremist activities, and organised crime by anti-national destructive forces are involved," they said.

4 officials raided, assets worth ₹26.55 cr unearthed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LOKAYUKTA police on Thursday unearthed assets worth Rs 26.55 crore allegedly owned by four government officials, disproportionate to their known sources of income.

A taluk health officer (THO) in Yadgir was found having assets worth Rs 12.59 crore, while a survey supervisor in Kolar owned properties valued at Rs 8.18 crore.

After conducting simultaneous raids at 24 places of these officials across the state, the Lokayukta police stated that assets worth Rs 26.55 crore were unearthed. They included immovable assets worth Rs 21.3 crore, Rs 17.42 lakh in cash, jewels valued at Rs 1.85 crore and vehicles worth Rs 1.84 crore.

According to a statement, Dr Raja Venkatappa Nayak, taluk health officer, Surapura taluk, Yadgir district, owned assets worth Rs 12.59 crore. They included immovable assets worth Rs 11.05 crore, comprising 11 sites, 2 houses, 13 acres of agricultural land, 1 petrol bunk, 1 nursing home, 1 lodge and bar, and movable assets of Rs 1.54 crore, comprising jewels worth Rs 60 lakh and vehicles valued at Rs 70 lakh.

In Kolar district, Suresh Babu G, survey supervisor, ADLR Office, Kolar taluk, was found having assets worth Rs 8.18 crore. They included immovable assets worth Rs 6.50 crore, comprising 3 sites, 5 houses, 5 acres of agricultural land and movable assets valued at Rs 1.68 crore, including ornaments worth Rs 18.24 lakh.

In Bengaluru, G Srinivasa Murthy, executive engineer, BBMP, Malleswaram Zone, had assets worth Rs 3.48 crore. They included immovable assets worth Rs 2.49 crore, comprising 4 sites, 6 houses, and movable assets of Rs 10 lakh in cash and ornaments worth Rs 72 lakh.

MB Ravi, assistant executive engineer, Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board, Davanagere, owned assets worth Rs 2.31 crore.

6 KILLED AS CAR RAMS LORRY IN HAVERI

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Haveri

The remains of the car which met with an accident near Byadgi town on NH-48 on Thursday | EXPRESS

SIX people of a family were killed in a road accident on NH-48 near Byadgi taluk on Thursday. The accident occurred when a car collided with a truck. According to the police, the commuters were heading to Hubballi from Ranibennur. Two people were injured and admitted to Haveri district hospital.

According to the police, the deceased have been identified as Immaulla Afraz (27), Ummisifa Afraz (16), Alisha Naranagi (20), Pulkhan Naranagi (20), Ummera (15) and Asiya Khanlandara. The two injured are Mehek (18) and Ummitaskin (11) who have been admitted KIMS Hospital in Hubballi. The victims are from Ranibennur and Harihara town.

On Thursday morning, all were on their way to attend a family event when their speeding car rammed a lorry near Motebennur village near Byadgi town.

District in-charge minister Shivanand Patil has expressed deep sorrow over the tragic accident. "I pray for eternal peace to the departed souls and speedy recovery for the injured," the minister said. He also added that he would discuss compensation for the families of the deceased with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

Anshu Kumar, Superintendent of Police (SP), Haveri, who visited the spot, confirmed that six people died and two were injured in the accident. A case has been registered at Byadgi police station.

District administration and police officials reach out to residents of Muddaballi village in Koppal district | EXPRESS

Truce again, after Koppal villagers say no to untouchability

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Koppal

ALMOST 50 days after some eateries and two salon owners shut their shops after some Dalits visited a salon for a haircut, a truce was arrived at between the warring upper caste community and Dalits in Muddaballi village in Koppal district. Barbers carried out their business during this period by visiting houses.

The truce became possible after Koppal district administration and police officials visited the village and held meetings with the two groups. The officials succeeded in pacifying the hotel and salon owners, and told them that in today's digital world, they should root out social evils like untouchability and live together in peace.

The officials held a mass meeting with the police, and villagers took an oath that they will not follow untouchability henceforth, and allow everybody into their eateries and salons. Village seniors also played a role in convincing the two parties, following which the barbers came forward and cut Dalit leaders' hair. However, some leaders say this is a temporary solution and some eatery owners will revert to their earlier stand, and not entertain Dalits. Some villagers, who did not want to be named, said, "We appreciate the efforts of the district administration, but officials should keep vigil as some people will repeat the same thing. The truce will continue for some days and some eatery and salon owners may shut their shops, giving one or other reason out of fear of being targeted. But this time, all villagers have made a promise and let's hope nobody breaks it."

An official from Koppal district administration said, "We went to Muddaballi village and convinced the villagers. We have also told people to treat all as equal and be a role model for others by maintaining unity. We have spoken to some seniors to intervene if any small disputes arise."

Stock trader self-immolates in Bannerghatta forest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE partially burnt body of a 27-year-old stock trader was found in the Bannerghatta forest on the outskirts of Bengaluru on Thursday. Police suspect that the deceased, identified as Madhusudhan, a resident of JP Nagar, died by suicide.

A cattle grazer noticed the body near Shylendradoddi in the morning. The police and a Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) team inspected the spot. The deceased was identified from the number plate of a two-wheeler found nearby.

Madhusudhan may have set himself on fire by pouring petrol in the wee hours of Thursday, police said. "He is believed to have suffered losses in the stock market, which may have led him to take the extreme step," an officer said. An unnatural death report has been registered by the Bannerghatta police.

DESPITE SEVERE TEACHER CRUNCH, KREIS STUDENTS OUTSHINE GOVT SCHOOLS

RISHITA KHANNA @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA's KREIS (Karnataka Residential Educational Institutions Society) schools continue to outperform government-run ones in board examinations, but a severe shortage of teaching staff threatens to undermine their long-term success. Currently, just 9,000 teachers are responsible for educating over 2.12 lakh students.

The demanding nature of these postings has deterred many educators from accepting positions, according to officials from the Social Welfare Department, which oversees the schools. They are urging the government to offer incentives or increase salaries to attract and retain qualified teachers.

Despite these challenges, KREIS schools have achieved remarkable academic results this year. They recorded a 91% pass rate in the SSLC exams — significantly higher than the state average of 62.34% — and a 91.64% pass rate in the 2nd PUC exams, far surpassing the 57.11% recorded by government colleges.

KREIS operates approximately 822 schools, primarily serving students from severely disadvantaged backgrounds, including children of sanitation workers, nomadic tribes, former Devadasis, rescued bonded labourers and other vulnerable communities. Many of these students are first-generation learners. Impressively, 34.10% of students earned distinctions and 55.90% achieved first-class results. The average score rose from 71.54% last year to 78% this year, and 71 students ranked among the top scorers. Officials credit this success to the KREIS schools' holistic support system. Unlike regular government institutions, these residential schools provide for every basic need — including toiletries, uniforms and textbooks — entirely free of cost. This approach allows students from Classes 6 to 12 to focus entirely on their education, while promoting confidence and self-discipline in a supportive environment.

However, the current teacher-student ratio is raising alarms. Officials warn that the burden on existing staff is unsustainable and may compromise the quality of education over time. "Many teachers avoid KREIS postings due to the high workload and inadequate pay," said a teacher from a KREIS school in Koppal. "If this continues, larger class sizes and staff burnout will become the norm. The only way to maintain quality is to improve compensation and provide incentives to attract skilled educators."

In a progressive move this year, the department introduced a policy to admit orphaned children directly into KREIS schools, reserving 50% of seats for them without entrance exams. This initiative aims to protect vulnerable children from exploitation and guarantees free education from Class 6 through Class 12.

HC DISMISSES PLEA OF THREE PAK MINORS SEEKING VISA EXTENSION

'India has taken conscious decision to safeguard interest of its citizens'

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

NOTING that the Government of India has taken a conscious decision to suspend various visas and also directed Pakistani nationals to leave the country to safeguard the interest of Indian citizens, the Karnataka High Court dismissed the petition filed by three minor Pakistani children through their mother with a prayer to issue directives to the Commissioner of Police and Foreigners Registration Officer, Mysuru City, to extend their visa or issue a long-term visa.

The children, who are Pakistani nationals born to an Indian mother and a Pakistani father, are presently residing in Mysuru.

"It is a matter of fact that, in view of the deadly terror attack in Pahalgam on April 22, the Cabinet Committee on Security has taken a decision to suspend various visas, including visitor visas, and directed the Pakistani nationals to leave the country on or before April 27. The Under Secretary to the Government of India passed the order on March 25 regarding the revocation of visas of Pakistani nationals. Therefore, the government, through the Cabinet Committee, has taken a conscious decision to safeguard the interests of the citizens of India. In such circumstances, I do not find any reason to interfere with the order and pass an order in favour of the petitioners. Hence, the petition is dismissed," said a vacation bench of Justice MG Uma.

The marriage of the mother of the petitioners, Ramsha Jahan, was solemnised in 2015 at Pishin in Pakistan. Despite her marriage to a Pakistani national, she has not yet applied for Pakistani citizenship but still holds Indian citizenship. Before the court, she represented her three minor children — Bibi Yamina (8), Muhammad Mudassir (4), and Muhammad Yousaf (3).

The children said that they entered India with their mother through a valid visa on January 4, 2025, and their visa was due to expire on June 18. They said that they were visiting India to attend the marriage of their maternal aunt. However, owing to the Pahalgam terror attack, the Centre revoked the visa granted to Pakistani nationals with immediate effect and ordered them to return to their country on or before April 30. They went to the Attari border on April 28 to enter Pakistan. But there was no one to receive them, and further, since Pakistan closed its borders to its own citizens, the immigration authorities sent them back to Mysuru. Therefore, they gave a representation to the Commissioner of Police seeking a long-term visa or extension of visa on humanitarian grounds. But the commissioner has not taken a decision on the request, and she is threatening to take coercive steps against them if they do not leave India, they alleged.

Pointing this out, the counsel for the petitioners said they are ready to go back to Pakistan before May 15 after attending the wedding on May 12. However, the Union Government strongly opposed it.

DEVE GOWDA LAUDS PM MODI FOR 'MATURE RESPONSE, LEADERSHIP'

BENGALURU: Former PM and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda was all praise for PM Modi for India's mature and restrained military response to the Pahalgam terrorist attack, in which 26 tourists were killed. In a letter, he appreciated Modi for cutting short his visit to Saudi Arabia and rushing back to monitor the developing situation in India, conducting strategy meetings, mobilising international support and inspiring the armed forces. Gowda also mentioned that Modi cancelled his Europe tour to be available at home. "The past couple of weeks must have been very demanding and stressful, but I am happy that God has given you the strength and resolve to see India through these trying times. Your leadership has been exemplary, and history will undoubtedly record it in glowing terms," he remarked. "I know it is lonely at the top, and I also know that without a spiritual sense, deep reflection, and continuous prayer, it is not easy to find balance and equanimity of judgment. You have demonstrated that you have it all in good measure in the last few days..." he wrote. "I pray that God be with you, and with our great nation as we wage this war of dharma against the adharma of terrorism....," he added.

@ Belagavi

COLONEL Sofia Qureshi, who hit the headlines along with Wing Commander Vyomika Singh after their media briefing on the success of 'Operation Sindoor', has close links with Karnataka, especially Belagavi district.

For, she is now called a proud 'daughter-in-law' of Karnataka. Although she hails from Baroda in Gujarat, Sofia married Col Tajuddin Bagewadi of Konnur village in Gokak taluk of Belagavi district.

According to her father-in-law Gous Sab Bagewadi, Sofia and Tajuddin "liked each other and we got them married in 2015."

A 1999-commissioned officer, Sofia has had high-profile postings in her over three decades of service in the Army. She is known for her uncompromising and fearless attitude. She was part of the Congo peacekeeping mission in 2006.

Tajuddin is now in Jhansi. Gous Sab was all praise for his daughter-in-law, now posted in Jammu, after watching her explain the success of 'Operation Sindoor' on TV.

Col Tajuddin Bagewadi & Col Sofia Qureshi

"I am extremely proud of my son and daughter-in-law, who are serving in the Indian Army. I was not aware of Sofia's media briefing. One of my friends in Konnur alerted me. I then watched her on TV briefing about the success of the operation," he said.

Sofia and Tajuddin visit Konnur during their vacation every year. "Sofia and my son like eating desi chicken and rotis while in Konnur. They are supposed to visit us for Bakrid next month," Gous Sab said.

Land use change, development projects alter Goa's ecology

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHANGE in land use and reduction in green cover are taking a drastic toll on the Western Ghats, especially the state of Goa, where development projects for tourism, infrastructure and connectivity have been put on the fast track. This has significantly impacted the functioning of forest ecosystems, contributing to climate change. A recent study by researchers from the Centre for Ecology, Indian Institute of Science (IISc), revealed that the total forest cover declined drastically post the 1990s, due to market forces associated with globalisation. There has also been a decline in evergreen forest cover by 10.98 per cent.

The carbon sequestration potential of forests in Goa that the study assessed, showed the storage of 56,131.16 Giga grams (Gga) of carbon, which accounts for Rs 373.47 billion ($4.49 billion). Similarly, carbon stored in forest ecosystems of the Western Ghats is valued at Rs 100 billion.

The total ecosystem supply value (TESV) for forest ecosystems was computed by aggregating the provisioning, regulating and cultural services which account for Rs 481.76 billion per year, said the report titled 'Insights into Linkages of Forest Structure Dynamics with Ecosystem Services', released on Monday. TESV is the summation of provisioning, regulating, and cultural services, and depends on the spatial extent and condition of the ecosystem of a particular area.

Prof TV Ramachandra, co-author of the research paper, said forest ecosystems in Goa provide diverse services which are vital for human well-being and prosperity.

With economic growth accelerating in Goa, there is tremendous pressure to divert natural systems to other uses. Many villages of Goa have witnessed a significant decline in agricultural productivity due to environmental degradation, and lower fertility around wetland regions. Hence, there is an urgent need to undertake natural capital accounting and valuation of ecosystem services, especially intangible benefits (such as regulating services, etc.), which the ecosystem provides. The value of all ecosystem services, including degradation costs, needs to be understood to develop appropriate policies toward ecosystem conservation and sustainable management. Thus, understanding drivers of land-use change would aid in prioritising critical ecosystems for conservation, Ramachandra said.

The report noted that the TESV of forest ecosystem services of Goa is as important as that of Uttara Kannada, with Rs 456.47 billion per year. Nationally, too, there has been a decline in TESV from Rs 2,841 billion in 2005 to Rs 1,835 billion in 2019 -- a 35% decline in forest ecosystem. The researchers compared Goa's total economic value to others and noted that Himachal Pradesh's TESV is Rs 1,066 billion per year, and that of Arunachal Pradesh's tropical forests is Rs 1,518 billion per year.

MP's sister, 5 others die in U'khand chopper crash

Vijayawada: TDP Lok Sabha member from Anantapur, G Lakshminarayana, confirmed that his sister, M Vedavati, was among the six killed in a helicopter crash in Uttarakhand on Thursday. Her husband, M Bhaskar, survived but sustained serious injuries. The private helicopter, carrying seven passengers en route to Gangotri temple, crashed near Gangnani in Uttarkashi district at approximately 8:45 am, killing six, including the pilot, according to officials. Vedavati was from Guntakal in Anantapur district.

110 kg ganja smuggled in ambulance seized in TN

Tiruvarur: A special team of the Tiruvarur police in Tamil Nadu on Thursday seized 110 kg of ganja smuggled into the district from Odisha in an ambulance. Four people were arrested in connection with the seizure. Acting on a tip-off, a special police team led by SI Mahendran undertook a vehicle check at the Kovilvenni check post on the Thanjavur-Nagapattinam highway on Wednesday. They intercepted an ambulance heading to Tiruvarur from Thanjavur to find the ganja inside the vehicle.

3 commandos die in blast triggered by Maoists in TG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mulugu

THREE commandos of the Greyhounds unit were killed and an officer injured in an improvised explosive device (IED) blast allegedly triggered by Maoists in the Nuguru forest area near Peddagutta under Wazeedu police station in Mulugu district.

The deceased commandos were identified as Vadla Sridhar, N Pavan Kalyan and T Sandeep. The injured officer, AAC Ch Ranadheer (RSI) of Greyhounds, also sustained firearm injuries in indiscriminate firing by CPI (Maoist) cadres. He was shifted to Hyderabad for further treatment.

According to an official release from the Director General of Police (DGP), Dr Jitender, at around 6 am on Thursday, a patrol team was conducting a search in the forest area approximately 4 km northeast of Penugolu village. A group of 35–40 armed extremists, including women, affiliated with the banned CPI (Maoist), had reportedly laid an ambush. They detonated landmines from a distance, followed by heavy gunfire targeting the search and patrol party. The Maoists continued firing indiscriminately with the intent to kill. The police returned fire in self-defence, after which the Maoist group fled the area, the release said. The armed cadres of the banned CPI (Maoist) had reportedly planted IEDs across forested areas falling under the limits of Venkatapuram, Wazeedu and Peruru police stations in Mulugu district. The Maoists had recently issued a letter claiming to have planted explosives in the area and warned Adivasis and others not to enter. To neutralise the planted IEDs, a patrol team comprising personnel from Mulugu police and Greyhounds units began combing operations on Wednesday night.

KARNATAKA HC REFUSES DEFAULT BAIL TO CPI(M) PROMOTER

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court has dismissed the petition filed by Chen-nai-based Anirudh Rajan seeking default bail in connection with a case registered by Upparpet police under the provisions of the BNS, Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and the Information Technology Act, for allegedly promoting the banned CPI(M). The court said that if the prosecution files an application for extension of time to complete the probe before the expiry of the statutory period with the report containing compelling reasons for extension, the accused does not acquire an indefeasible right to default bail, even if the court grants extension after the expiry of the original period. In this case, the prosecution filed its application for extension of time to complete the investigation under Section 43-D(2)(b) of the UAP Act prior to expiry of the initial mandatory 90-day period. The accused was produced before the trial court on December 3, 2024, and the report was filed, indicating the compelling reasons for extending the time, stating that there was a need to analyse voluminous electronic data. The reasons were found convincing for extension. Merely because the application remained pending at the time when the accused filed the application for default bail, it cannot be said that the accused acquired an indefeasible right to bail, and therefore the accused is not entitled to default bail under Section 187(3) of BNSS, the court added. Rajan was arrested on September 6, 2024. ENS

AP cabinet nod for Amaravati as capital

S VISWANATH @ Vijayawada

THE Andhra Pradesh Cabinet meeting, held under the chairmanship of CM N Chandrababu Naidu, approved Amaravati as the capital city of Andhra Pradesh. A resolution naming Amaravati as the capital of the residual state of Andhra Pradesh will be sent to the Centre to amend the AP State Reorganisation Act. Sections 2 and 5 of the AP State Reorganisation Act mention that Hyderabad would serve as the joint capital for ten years following the State bifurcation.

After this period, Hyderabad would become the capital of Telangana, and the newly constructed capital by Andhra Pradesh would become its own. However, the Act did not specify the name of AP's new capital. Therefore, the Cabinet has decided to send a resolution to the Centre to officially include Amaravati as the capital city of AP. The area governed by the Capital Region Development Authority (CRDA) will form part of Amaravati.

The Cabinet approved a proposal authorizing the Commissioner of the Andhra Pradesh Capital Region Development Authority to approve short tenders for four works worth ₹1,732.306 crores, award contracts to L1 bidders, and implement decisions approved by the APCRDA Authority through Resolutions 529/2025 to 532/2025.

42-yr-old Kerala woman tests positive for Nipah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Malappuram

A 42-year-old woman from Malappuram has tested positive for Nipah, triggering concerns across the state. The development, coming nearly a year after the death of a 14-year-old boy from the same district, has triggered fresh concerns across the state. Health officials said the native of Valanchery is in extremely critical condition and is undergoing intensive treatment at a private hospital in Perinthalmanna.

This is the sixth year, and the third consecutive since 2022, that Nipah has been reported in Kerala. After the first-ever outbreak in 2018 in Kozhikode, the infection was reported in Kochi in 2019, in Kozhikode in 2021 and 2023, and in Malappuram in 2024. A total of 21 Nipah-related deaths have been recorded in the state so far.

The officials said the woman had been under treatment for four days for high fever, persistent cough and acute breathing difficulty. Suspecting Nipah, the medical staff collected her samples, which were first tested at the Kozhikode Microbiology Lab and then sent to the National Institute of Virology (NIV) in Pune, which confirmed the infection.

The health department initiated an immediate response. Health Minister Veena George, who led a high-level emergency meeting attended by the district collector and senior health department officials at the Malappuram collectorate on Thursday, told reporters that monoclonal antibody treatment has been initiated.

As per reports, the woman had a limited travel history and rarely stepped out of her house. So far, samples of seven high-risk contacts have returned negative in the first phase of testing.

Meanwhile, two other family members have started showing symptoms. Despite having not consumed fruit recently or no known exposure to bats, the primary carriers of the virus, the family reported that several of their hens died a few days ago.

People cannot be allowed to stay inside forests: Khandre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Thursday said that if people are allowed to stay inside forests, it will effect the natural habitat of tigers, elephants and other wildlife and will lead to further conflict.

Taking note of the 52 families forcefully entering Nagarahole Tiger Reserve on Monday and Tuesday and building huts and shed, Khandre said there are some group of people who are inciting them and spreading false news about retired and serving forest department officials, NGOs and experts.

He said the rights of the people who are now asserting their rights on forest land in Nagrahole have been dismissed. They should approach the legal authorities, he said.

Khandre directed the forest department officials to submit a report on the chronology of the incident and all other details within two days, along with the court judgments regarding the rights over forest lands. Speaking at the sidelines of the release of two books- Nagarahole- A Wild Paradise and Wildlife Forensic Evidence Collection Guide- by Kali Tiger Reserve- in Bengaluru, Khandre said, "No sort of encroachment will be allowed and action will be taken against the encroachers. There is zero tolerance to encroachments and people instead of writing to forest department, they should file appeals in courts," he said.

Pertaining to the felling of trees, Khandre said there is a need to amend the Tree Preservation Act to take strict action against those illegally felling trees in government lands, forest land and road sides.

Citing the recent Supreme Court orders where the court took objection to tree felling, Khandre said, "there is increasing outcry among people over permissions being given to axe hundreds of trees in the name of development."

The minister directed all government authorities not to give unnecessary permissions to cut down trees.

On felling of trees, minister Khandre said there is a need to amend the Tree Preservation Act | FILE

CHINA'S SILENCE ON PAK'S USE OF TERROR AS POLICY SPEAKS VOLUMES

INDIA'S recent precision strikes on terror hubs in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir were not acts of provocation—they were acts of self-defence. The April 22 Pahalgam terror attack, which killed 26 innocent civilians, was traced to cross-border terror infrastructure, and India exercised its sovereign right to defend its citizens. The nine targeted sites were not civilian zones, but bases linked to known terrorist organisations. There is not even a shadow of doubt about that—informal acknowledgments from within Pakistan match fairly open intelligence. For China to call this military action "regrettable" is, therefore, is a curious lapse of wisdom.

Beijing's formal response—urging "restraint" and "peace"—has statesmanlike gravitas on the surface, but only there. Inside, it is without substance. Despite claiming to oppose "all forms of terrorism", China has consistently shielded Pakistan-based actors from global scrutiny. From blocking UN terror designations to sugarcoating Islamabad's duplicity, China has long used its diplomatic clout to preserve its "iron brother" alliance—even at the cost of its own self-interest. In the 21st century, even it has stakes in a pacified Pakistan. If it chooses not to exert itself to bring that about when it clearly has the capacity, one must ask why.

Operation Sindoor was not an act of escalation—it was a precise, proportionate and necessary strike against terror. This zero-tolerance approach is not bluster, but a doctrinal outcome of decades marked by bloodshed and futile attempts at dialogue, even in the face of Pakistan's use of terrorism as a tool of state policy. China's reaction, on the other hand, smells of strategic hypocrisy. Its calls for "fair investigations" ring hollow while it approvingly accepts Pakistan's "resolute" actions against terror at face value—these have always been performative rituals, papering over denialism. Beijing's refusal to name perpetrators or support global terror designations, including for 26/11-accused Sajid Mir, exposes its not-so-secret partisanship. Peace is not the absence of action, but the presence of justice. Equating aggressor and victim in the name of balance distorts the very foundation of international norms.

This is not neutrality. This is its opposite, dressed up in diplomatese. Let alone global acceptance as a credible superpower. If China seeks leadership in the Global South, it must do better. Align its words with actions, for one. At present, its regret over India's defensive strikes rings hollow and its silence on terrorism speaks volumes.

TRADE BOOST FOR MOST, WORRIES FOR A FEW

WAR strategist Sun Tzu had said, 'In the midst of chaos, there is also opportunity.' Perhaps this is what Indian and British negotiators had in mind amid the chaos of Donald Trump's tariffs as they hastened to clinch a far-reaching free trade agreement (FTA). The deal is expected to boost bilateral trade between the two countries, which is currently at $56 billion, by another $34 billion by 2040. With that promise, it gives both countries more options in dealing with the US's tariff regime. The agreement should translate into substantial gains for Indian exporters as Britain will reduce its already-low tariffs, leaving 99 percent of Indian goods facing zero duties. Textiles and apparels, a huge employer in India, should be a big beneficiary, while gems and jewellery, marine products and auto parts would also receive a boost.

The India-UK deal also has a much-awaited 'double contribution convention'. This will exempt temporary Indian workers in Britain from making social security contributions for 3 years. Britain's commitments will also ease mobility of professionals, for both entry and placement. This comes as a shot in the arm for India's information technology sector. The UK said this was the "biggest and most economically significant" bilateral trade agreement it had signed since leaving the European Union in 2020. India, on its part, will reduce duties on 90 percent of British imports ranging from whisky and medical devices to machinery and lamb. The target is to make 85 percent of British goods tariff-free over the next decade.

Some of this is great news for middle class consumers. For car buyers, a fleet of British models will be far cheaper now with automotive tariffs going down to 10 percent for a punishing 100 percent. On the other hand, spirits manufacturers as well as car makers in India, who have benefited from a protected environment, will find the going tough. There are other downsides, too. FTAs have often led to a higher growth in imports than in exports, creating a massive trade deficit. While it is time that tariff protections are removed from some industries, on the products of farms and smaller enterprises, which are still struggling to sustain their businesses, a phased tariff protection is still a necessity.

QUICK TAKE

GEM OF A MISSION

A threat of legal action by the Indian government has forced Sotheby's to postpone the auction of hundreds of sacred jewels linked to the Buddha's remains. The 'gem relics', which include amethysts, pearls, carnelians and embossed gold sheets, were set to be sold in Hong Kong on Wednesday. India's action is in line with two missions it has undertaken vigorously in recent years—the return of looted antiques and promotion of the Buddhist tourism circuit. The relics are said to have been 'found' by a colonial-era engineer in Uttar Pradesh's Piprahwa village. The Indian government, which has called the relics "inalienable religious and cultural heritage of India", must explore all options for their return.

As jihadi terrorism and fascism share some traits, it's helpful to see how the world allied to tackle that menace to examine how India can spearhead the battle at hand

WORLD'S SCOURGE: FASCISM THEN, TERRORISM NOW

COMMODORE CHITRAPU UDAY BHASKAR (RETD)

SOURAV ROY

TODAY, the 80th anniversary of the defeat of Nazi Germany by the Allied forces will be celebrated in Russia as a major historical punctuation. This epochal event marked the end of the diabolical Hitler era and the ideology of fascism, which together threatened the normative principles of freedom and liberty.

In the eight decades since, the world has transformed with many ironic twists on the road. Today, some of the old allies are pitted against each other and the biggest concern for a number of nations isn't fascism, but jihadi terrorism. It's instructive to look at how world powers came together in different eras to mobilise against the biggest scourges of the times to examine how the new fight against terrorism can be spearheaded.

Today's military parade in Moscow offers a snapshot of the present. For Russian President Vladimir Putin, the list of world leaders who will be present will signal an endorsement of his leadership—and by extension, the war that he has initiated against Ukraine, one that is still festering. Among the major powers, presidents Xi Jinping of China and Lula da Silva of Brazil will be in Moscow along with leaders from 27 other nations. Predictably, the US and the EU will not be present.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who is considered to have a special personal relationship with President Putin, will not be there, for he is leading his nation in the fight against terrorism under the banner of Operation Sindoor and the India-Pakistan military tension is simmering.

The parade unfolds against a complex set of anomalies, ironies and open-ended questions about ideology and politics around the world. May 1945 defined the end of the war where the US, USSR, UK and France collectively resisted the Fascist ideology and territorial annexation that had been brutally pursued by Germany, Italy and Japan. The mass killings of those defeated or annexed by Germany in Europe and Japan in Asia are tragic testimonies. Ironically, the world is currently a silent witness to another genocide, in Palestine, with the 1945 victims as perpetrators.

Fascism is broadly defined as an ideology that espouses a range of characteristics including extreme right-wing political orientation, authoritarianism, ultra-nationalism, dictatorial leadership and suppression of domestic dissent. In states where right-wing groups are socio-politically ascendant, governance is often accompanied by an intense prioritisation of majority rule and vigilantism over individual rights, and the 'othering' of vulnerable minorities and foreign immigrants.

Currently, while there is no pure Fascist-led nation in the Hitlerian mould, many countries that are not authoritarian or communist—such as Russia, China, Vietnam and North Korea—are exhibiting some of these traits. Paradoxically, Russia, with an authoritarian leader at the helm, is projecting itself as the lone defender standing up against fascism, while Putin is perceived in the US-led West as a malignant force that threatens stability in Europe. The war in Ukraine is held up as irrefutable evidence of such territorial violation and the trampling of laws and treaties.

Among the anomalies that abound, Russia is now ranged against its 1945 allies—the US, UK and France, with only China unambiguously in its camp. Germany, Japan and Italy have distanced themselves from Moscow and are formal military allies of their erstwhile enemy, the US, though this is tenuous given the current Trump-led uncertainty about NATO.

Furthermore, in an ironic turn of events, post-war Germany, that had resolutely denounced its Nazi past, has recently seen the rise of a right-wing constituency in its domestic politics. Anti-immigrant sentiment with a visible anti-Muslim bias has been the trigger for support to right-wing parties—a pattern discernible in other parts of Europe, too. Apart from Germany, Italy, France and now the UK are also witnessing similar trends.

The 80-year trajectory from 1945 to 2025 has seen two major geopolitical punctuations. The Cold War began soon after the end of the Second World War and the West identified the containment of the Soviet Union as the new strategic challenge to the 'free world' and fascism was replaced by communism.

This reorientation saw the US and NATO pitted against the former USSR and a fledgling communist China. In the latter phase of the Cold War, with the Nixon-Mao rapprochement, China was co-opted by the US, and the Soviet Union partnered with India. Clearly, communism was neither the adhesive nor the abhorrent ideology it was projected to be.

The Cold War ended in December 1991 with the USSR disintegrating and a liberal democratic ethos underpinned by free trade and globalisation was the flavour of the decade. This was short-lived as 9/11 ushered in the ill-fated US-led 'global war on terror' and an anti-Muslim anxiety began to spread.

It is instructive that jihadi terrorism and fascism share some traits, but aren't identical. The former is supranational in scope, while the latter is state-centric. However, both can involve authoritarianism, ideological extremism, rabid intolerance of the 'other' and a willingness to use violence to impose their vision.

The arrival of Donald Trump and his ideology in US politics and the enormity of January 6, 2021—the attack on the US Capitol by Trump supporters—sowed the seeds of what some critics have labelled the American variant of fascism.

Will the growth of right-wing political parties weaken the normative principles of freedom and democracy that were so zealously and triumphantly defended in May 1945? This is an open-ended question with no easy binary answer. The antidote will have to come from active and discerning citizen partnership.

Can the fight against jihadi terrorism currently being spearheaded by India become the new ideological factor that will compel the major powers to arrive at a tentative consensus on quarantining this scourge? The US, Russia, major EU nations and India have all been differently scarred by this virus.

China is a key to finding this consensus. Hopefully, the next Xi-Putin-Modi meeting would allow for a preliminary assessment of the emerging global ideological threats and the contours of the collective response.

INDIA NEEDS A HEATWAVE POLICY

THAMIZHACHI THANGAPANDIAN

MP from South Chennai and a member of the Consultative Committee for the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change

AS India confronts yet another punishing summer, the realities of climate change are no longer abstract. The first nationwide heatwave alert of 2025 was issued as early as April 8, and large parts of the country are already experiencing temperatures soaring past historical norms. Yet, in the face of increasing fatalities, productivity loss and public health strain, the Union government continues to treat heatwaves as a seasonal nuisance rather than the climate emergency they are.

The UN secretary-general's 'Call to Action on Extreme Heat' warns that heat is now the deadliest of all climate hazards. For India, where 90 percent of the workforce is informal, healthcare systems are uneven, and urban heat islands are rapidly expanding, this danger is existential. But while states scramble to prepare, no overarching national heatwave policy offers coordination, funding or technical guidance.

The result? A patchwork of uneven responses. Some states like Delhi and Jammu & Kashmir have introduced heat action plans with hydration points and early warnings. Others are still in the planning phase. These fragmented efforts often kick in after disaster strikes, leaving the most vulnerable—daily-wage labourers, the elderly and children—at the mercy of extreme temperatures. There's no national framework to set standards, enforce accountability, or ensure that mitigation matches adaptation.

In this scenario, Tamil Nadu stands as a striking counter-example. Under the leadership of Chief Minister M K Stalin, the state has taken a proactive, institutionalised approach to climate resilience. The Tamil Nadu Climate Change Mission and the Green Tamil Nadu Mission are governance tools integrated into urban design, agriculture, public health and education. The state's preparedness isn't seasonal; it is systemic. It has built green cover in urban areas to lower ambient temperatures, promoted cool roofs in government buildings and low-income housing, and ensured that district administrations have clear, locally-adaptable guidelines to address heat stress. Schools are instructed to alter timings and ensure hydration, hospitals are equipped for heat stroke emergencies, and public awareness campaigns precede—not follow—peak summer.

Tamil Nadu's anticipatory approach is in direct contrast to the Union government's delayed, ad hoc advisories. A single advisory issued in March 2025 simply asked states to "prepare"—without guidelines, resources or measurable indicators. The Union government's inaction amounts to a dangerous abdication of responsibility in a crisis that is growing more frequent and severe with each passing year.

The economic toll is just as stark. Heatwaves have already begun to impact national productivity. A recent study from the Global Heat Health Information Network links prolonged heat exposure with an 8-10 percent reduction in outdoor labour output, especially in construction and agriculture—sectors that form the backbone of India's employment. Yet, there is no national compensation framework for wage loss due to extreme heat, nor a safety net for workers forced off jobs because conditions are life-threatening.

AFP

Heat is now the biggest climate hazard and Indians are especially vulnerable. There is urgent need for a national policy setting standards, enforcing accountability and ensuring mitigation across the country. Tamil Nadu's anticipatory approach can be a starting point

Global best practices offer a clear direction. France operates a national heatwave plan with tiered alerts, welfare checks and legally mandated cooling zones. The US promotes urban cooling through green infrastructure, public health preparedness and building design. WHO's ClimaHealth platform recommends integrated planning between climate and health ministries. All of these approaches share one thing in common: national leadership and coordination.

That is exactly what India lacks. A national heatwave policy must mandate every state to draft and regularly update its heat actions plan, back it with central funding and develop a national heat surveillance system. It must also move beyond urban centres to cover rural and peri-urban zones—where resilience is low and mortality often underreported. It must protect the informal worker, ensure health systems can respond in real time, and embed cooling into housing, transport and employment policies.

Heat resilience is also about justice. Vulnerable groups suffer disproportionately: slum dwellers without insulation, gig workers with no rest breaks, women who cook over open fires in poorly ventilated homes and elderly citizens without access to cooling spaces. Tamil Nadu is addressing these intersections through targeted welfare schemes and smart urban planning, but without support from the Union government, such isolated successes can only go so far.

The Union government must step up by owning the climate mandate. That includes developing an enforceable policy under the Disaster Management Act, funding heat-resilient infrastructure through schemes like Smart Cities and AMRUT, and ensuring that climate justice is not left to the vision of a few progressive states. Tamil Nadu has demonstrated that heatwaves are neither unpredictable nor unmanageable. With foresight, planning, and political will, lives can be protected and systems strengthened.

If the Union government continues to see heatwaves as an annual inconvenience rather than a structural threat, the costs will only multiply—both in human and economic terms. India doesn't need to wait for more headlines, more deaths or more advisories. What it needs is a national heatwave policy that is as bold, urgent and structured as the threat itself. Tamil Nadu has shown the way—the Union must now catch up.

Targeted approach

Ref: Operation Sindoor: The message in opting for precision, not in scale (May 8). India's accuracy in targeting terrorist locations is truly praiseworthy. They demonstrated a non-escalatory and targeted approach. The autonomy granted by the central government was evident. The courageous actions of the soldiers instilled immense pride in every Indian. This appropriate response is a mark of honour for all Indians.

Hunt terrorists

India's aim was crystal clear—the actions were measured and non-escalatory. The general reaction of the Pahalgam victims' relatives was jubilation over the destruction of terrorist camps. But we need to remember the perpetrators at Pahalgam have not been brought before justice yet.

Military history

With due respect to all married women who choose not to apply sindoor, the word took on an entirely different meaning when the Indian forces struck at the foreheads of terrorists. One hopes the name of this operation secures its place in military history, not on election posters or in political speeches.

Seizing Gaza

Ref: Strikes across Gaza kill 59 (May 8). Israel's real plan is to permanently occupy Gaza. It wants to seize land and confine and destabilise the Palestinians. The role of the US and Arab countries has been weak. Gaza is not just a piece of land, it's also a sensitive issue. Occupation will not bring peace. Israel should reconsider this plan.

PAHALGAM WAS FIRST ESCALATION

Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri with IAF Wing Commander Vyomika Singh and Army's Colonel Sofiya Qureshi addresses a press conference in New Delhi onThursday | PTI

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

RESPONDING to Pakistan's allegations of Indian military escalation, Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri on Thursday said "the original escalation" was the April 22 attack in Pahalgam in which 26 people were killed by terrorists found to have links with Pakistan.

"The original escalation was by Pakistan on April 22. We are the ones who are responding to that escalation with the action that was taken yesterday (Wednesday) morning. And again, I would like to emphasise that the action was restrained; it was directed towards non-civilian, non-military targets, and confined to terrorist camps," he said.

"Any further action by Pakistan is nothing but escalation by Pakistan now, and will be responded to and is being responded to appropriately," he said. Pakistan has claimed civilian casualties in Operation Sindoor. To counter this narrative, Misri during a press conference showed images of Pakistan Army personnel "at the funerals of terrorists."

One widely circulated image showed coffins draped in Pakistani flags, with full state honours being accorded. The funeral was reportedly led by Hafiz Abdul Rauf, a US-designated terrorist, and attended by members of Jamaat-ud-Dawah (JuD), a banned terror group headed by Hafiz Saeed. The event took place in Muridke, near Lahore.

"If any civilians were killed in these attacks, I wonder what message this picture actually sends to all of you. This is a question that is worth asking," Misri said.

He dismissed Pakistan's claim that India attacked religious sites, calling the allegation "completely false" and pointed out that it was Pakistan who "targeted a gurudwara" in Kashmir.

LoP in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi and Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge address the media after an all-party meeting over Operation Sindoor | PTI

HOURS before India launched an attack on air defence systems in Lahore, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh told an all-party meeting on Thursday that the 'intended objectives have been obtained by Operation Sindoor' and India has no interest in further escalation. However, Singh asserted that in the event of any misadventure by Pakistan, India will give a befitting reply, said sources.

Singh said that at least 100 people including hardcore terrorists and their associates were killed in Indian strikes on terror sites in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied-Kashmir (PoK) under the Operation Sindoor.

On Opposition MPs questioneing the minister for not having a detailed presentation of the operation, he said, "We did not have a presentation since it is an ongoing operation".

Reiterating his support for the armed forces and the government, senior Congress leader and LoP in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi demanded that the government should give a detailed briefing on the situation to demonstrate a united national response to the crisis, said sources.

Citing the 1999 Kargil War, Gandhi said that the then Indian government briefed political parties in an all-party meeting on Pakistani intrusion.

Amit Shah, S Jaishankar, JP Nadda and Nirmala Sitharaman also attended the meet.

Several leaders including Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge, Rahul Gandhi and CPI (M) MP John Brittas conveyed their disappointment over PM Narendra Modi not attending the all-party meeting and said it will send out a negative message to the world. Many Opposition leaders referred to the Pakistani claim of downing Indian fighter jets and wondered if the government needed to counter such propaganda.

DMK's T R Baalu said 'terrorism has no religion' and the situation shouldn't be portrayed as a Hindu-Muslim issue. Parliamentary Affairs Minister Kiren Rijiju said, "The discussions were conducted in a constructive and serious manner given the gravity of the issue at hand."

Refrain from airing Pak-origin content, OTT services told

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE ministry of information and broadcasting (I&B) on Thursday asked over-the-top (OTT) service providers and media streaming intermediaries to stop airing content, including films, songs, and podcasts, having origins in Pakistan with 'immediate effect'.

In an advisory issued in wake of the Pahalgam terror attack last month, the ministry sought ban on streaming of content generated in the neighbouring country 'in the interest of national security'.

Referring to the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media, Ethics Code) Rules 2021, the ministry circular said, "In the interest of national security, all OTT platforms, media streaming platforms and intermediaries operating in India are advised to discontinue web series, films, songs, podcasts and other streaming media content... having its origins in Pakistan with immediate effect."

Citing the April 22 Pahalgam terror attack as cause, the I&B ministry condemned Pakistan's role in sponsoring cross-border terrorism. "Several terrorist attacks in India have been established to have cross border linkages with Pakistan based State and non-State actors," the advisory read.

Govt cautions fake social media narrative used by Pak handles

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Government on Thursday cautioned citizens against a spate of false narratives and claims being circulated over social media by Pakistan.

A day after Operation Sindoor razed several terror camps in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK), the Fact Check Unit (FCU) of the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (I&B), urged individuals, especially social media users, to stay vigilant and report suspicious and misleading content, specifically those related to the Indian Armed Forces and the present situation between the two countries.

"In coming days your social media will be flooded with Pakistan-sponsored propaganda. It's crucial to scrutinise every piece of information carefully. If you encounter dubious content, especially concerning the Indian Armed Forces or any info related to the ongoing situation, report it to #PIBFactCheck," FCU posted on 'X'.

Following India's strike at the cross-border terror infrastructure, Pakistan has launched a massive disinformation campaign in an attempt to distract global attention by circulating falsities through digital manipulation and fabricated claims.

Following Operation Sindoor, the FCU is constantly rebutting false claims being spread by Pakistan-based social media handles over the strikes. These fabricated narratives are being amplified by top Pakistan government functionaries, who are publicly endorsing the disinformation; making the role of the FCU all the more crucial in curbing false propaganda.

PAKISTAN TO GET FIRM RESPONSE, JAISHANKAR TELLS ARAB NATIONS

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Thursday said that India will respond with a "very, very firm" hand to any military aggression from Pakistan, even as he emphasised New Delhi's intent to avoid escalation. His remarks came amid a flurry of diplomatic engagements with Iranian and Saudi ministers as tensions mount between the neighbours following the terror attack in Pahalgam.

In his opening remarks during a meeting with Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi in New Delhi, Jaishankar said the Pahalgam attack had forced India to retaliate. "You are visiting India at a time when we are responding to a particularly barbaric terrorist attack on April 22 in the Indian Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir. This attack compelled us to respond on May 7 by striking at the cross-border terrorist infrastructure...However, if there are military attacks on us, there should be no doubt that it will be met with a very, very firm response," he said.

The two ministers co-chaired the 20th India-Iran Joint Commission Meeting. Araghchi had visited Pakistan on Monday. With Araghchi and Saudi Arabia's Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Adel Al-Jubeir who arrived here on an unannounced visit, Jaishankar spoke about cross-border linkages of the attack and India's "calibrated and measured response," sources said.

"A good meeting with Adel Al-Jubeir, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs of Saudi Arabia this morning. Shared India's perspective on countering terrorism," said Jaishankar.

Pak turbulence in Indian airspace, flights most hit

AMID heightened security concerns, India's booming aviation sector has been hit. Closure of 30 airports across several states has left hundreds of flights cancelled and thousands of travellers stranded or scrambling for alternatives. S Lalitha takes a look at the situation:

What triggered disruption?

It stems from the closure of operations at several civilian airports — many of which double as military airfields — after India conducted precision strikes in Pakistan and PoK on May 7 and 8. India suspended operations at critical airports in the North, Northwest, and Central regions of the country.

Affected airports

The closure impacts airports in J&K, Himachal Pradesh, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Punjab, and Delhi-NCR. Notable ones include:

- J&K & Ladakh: Leh, Thoise, Srinagar, Jammu
- Punjab: Amritsar, Pathankot, Ludhiana, Patiala, Bathinda, Halwara
- HP: Dharamshala, Shimla, Bhuntar, Gaggal

- Rajasthan: Jodhpur, Jaisalmer, Kishangarh, Bikaner
- Gujarat: Bhuj, Jamnagar, Rajkot, Porbandar, Mundra, Kandla, Keshod
- Others: Hindon (Delhi NCR), Gwalior (MP) and Chandigarh

Airlines' response

Major airlines have rolled out cancellations and passengers holding valid tickets have been offered full refunds:

- IndiGo: Suspended 165 daily flights, including those from Amritsar, Bikaner, Chandigarh, Gwalior, Jammu, Jodhpur, Leh, and Srinagar
- Air India: Cancelled flights to and from Jammu, Srinagar, Leh, Jodhpur, Amritsar, Bhuj, Jamnagar, Chandigarh, and Rajkot
- SpiceJet: Stopped operations in Leh, Srinagar, Jammu, Dharamshala, Kandla, and Amritsar
- Akasa Air: Cancelled flights from Srinagar

Impact on flyers

Travellers are experiencing severe stress due to cancellations, particularly those with connecting flights. Social media platforms of airlines have been flooded with distress calls.

What's next?

Airlines and airport authorities are monitoring developments, but flyers should be prepared for ongoing disruptions beyond May 10.

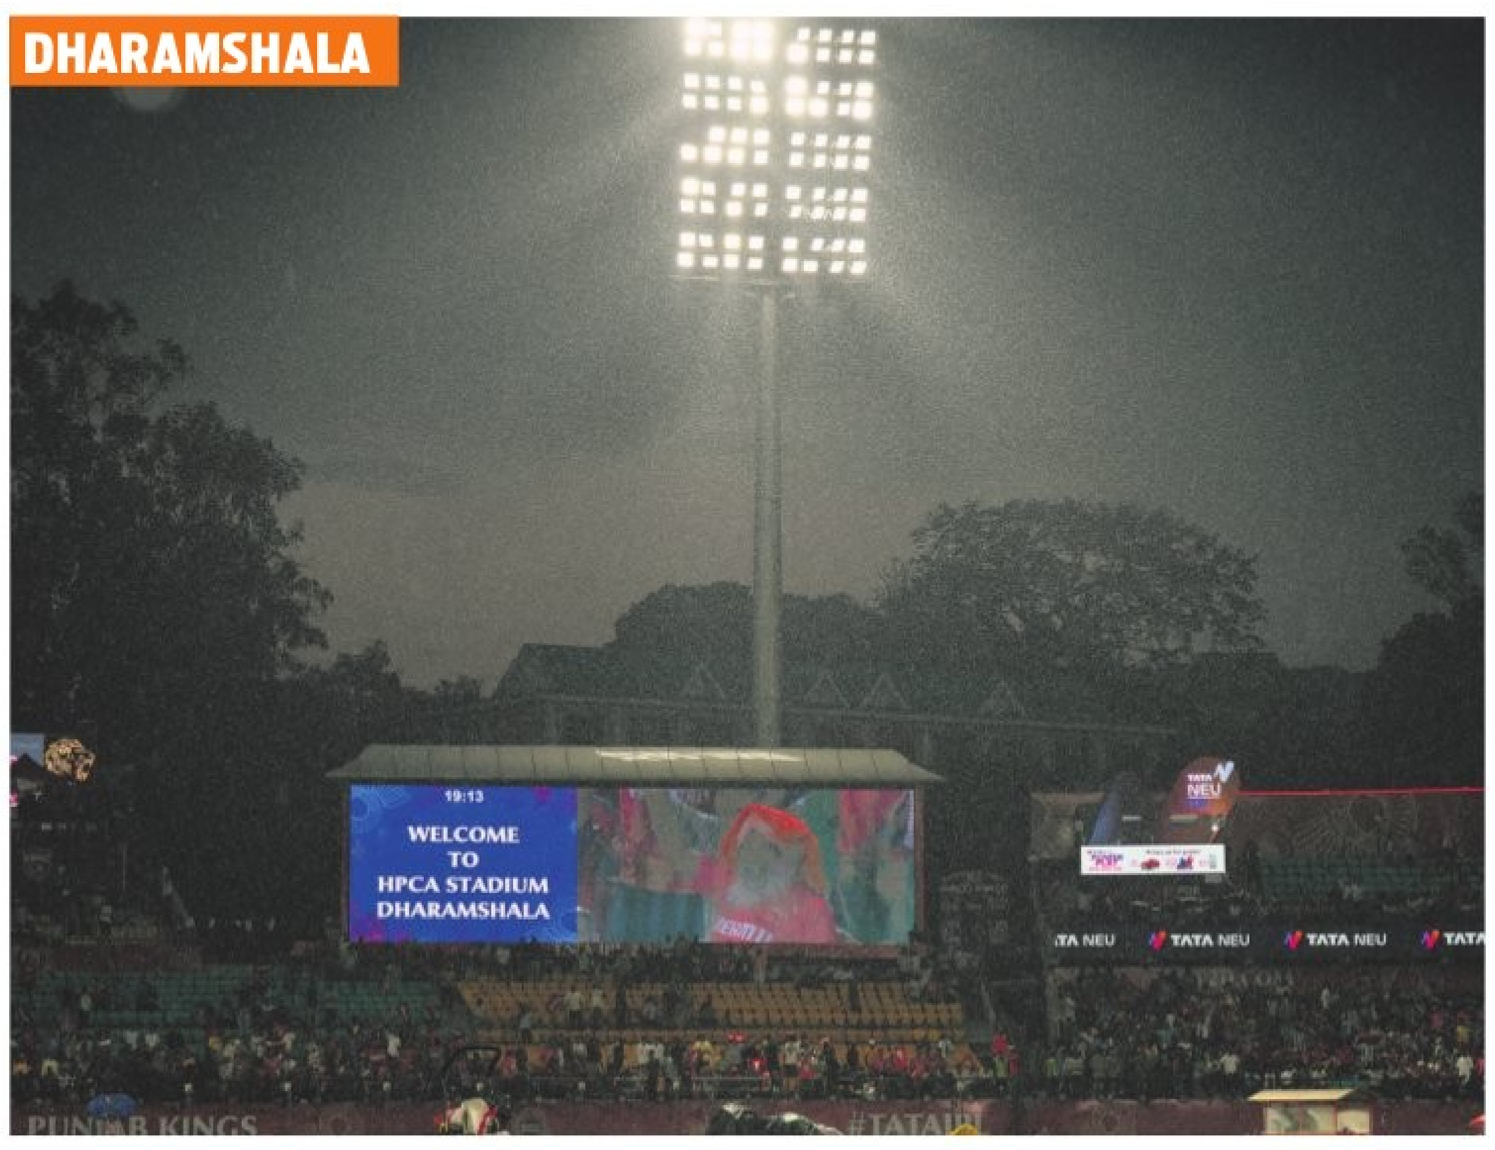
PAK MISSILES AND SUICIDE KAMIKAZE DRONES TARGET AIRPORT IN JAMMU

ALL SCHOOLS IN CHANDIGARH TO REMAIN CLOSED FOR TWO DAYS

REPORTS OF PRESENCE OF PAK TROOPS IN VILLAGES NEAR RAJASTHAN BORDER

SRI GANGANAGAR



INDIA THWARTS PAK ESCALATIONS

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER Wednesday night's failed attempt to target Indian military installations, the Pakistan army on Thursday evening, in a major escalation, launched missiles and suicide kamikaze drones in Jammu targeting the airport, which also houses Indian Air Force station, and civilian areas. However, the missiles and drones were successfully neutralised by Indian air defence.

Pakistan also simultaneously launched heavy mortar and artillery shelling across the Line of Control (LoC) from Kupwara in north Kashmir to Rajouri in the Jammu region.

At around 8.45 pm, they launched a swarm of missiles and kamikaze drones in different areas of Jammu.

Loud explosions were heard across the city. Immediately after the explosions, sirens were sounded alerting people about the attack. Pakistan targetted civilian areas and the Jammu airport, which also houses the IAF station.

An army official said the armed forces successfully downed all the missiles and drones. "We had activated air defence systems and managed to intercept and show down the missiles and drones," he said.

According to officials, 8 missiles fired by the Pakistan army were directed at Satwari, Samba, RS Pura and Arnia areas of Jammu. All of them were shot down by air defences.

He said the drones, which were sighted at multiple locations in Jammu, were effectively engaged by air defence.

There were no immediate reports of any casualty or damage in the Pakistani attack.

Post-attack, there was complete blackout in Jammu as authorities disconnected power. The mobile services were also shut down in some parts of Jammu. Pakistan troops also launched heavy mortar and artillery shelling at the LoC in Uri, Tangdhar, Gurez in Kashmir to Rajouri and other areas in Jammu region.

A woman was killed in Pakistani troops' intense mortar and artillery shelling in Uri border area of north Kashmir's Baramulla district.

An official said army effectively returned fire with similar calibre weapons. Heavy exchange of fire and shelling reportedly continued.

The Valley witnessed a blackout after authorities cut off the electricity supply in most parts of Srinagar and other parts of the region. A high alert has been declared around Srinagar and Awantipora air bases and people living in the vicinity have been asked to be cautious and alert.

Amid reports that the escalation may have caused both sides to move tanks, an army official said there was no such movement on either side.

Defence sources also denied reports of a suicide attack by a terrorist on an army camp at Rajouri. "It is completely false as no such thing has taken place," they said. Authorities have ordered closure of all schools in J&K on Friday.

LEAVES OF PERSONNEL, OFFICIALS CANCELLED

Many states have announced the cancellation of leave of police personnel and administration officials. The stringent measures were taken by Punjab, Haryana, Rajasthan, Gujarat and West Bengal after Indian strikes on Pak

AERIAL MONITORING IN NORTHWEST FRONTIER

Amid Pakistan attempts to attack border districts, aerial monitoring has been ramped up across the northwestern frontier, with heightened vigilance over the volatile Kutch-Creek zone. Fishing has been banned in marine zones.

Complete blackout in Punjab border dists, firecrackers banned

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A blackout was enforced in Chandigarh as well as several districts of Punjab — including Pathankot, Amritsar, Jalandhar, Hoshiarpur, Moga and Mohali — on Thursday night amid escalating tensions between India and Pakistan.

In Pathankot, some locals claimed to have heard an explosion-like sound. However, there was no official confirmation in this regard. Local authorities have appealed to people to keep their lights switched off and stay at home.

Shortly after a blackout was clamped in Chandigarh as sirens started blaring around 9 to 9.30 pm, the authorities concerned announced that all schools in the UT would remain closed for two days. Likewise, the Punjab government ordered the closure of educational institutions in the state for the next three days. In a post on microblogging site X (formerly Twitter), Punjab Education Minister Harjot Singh Bains announced, "In view of the evolving situation, it is hereby ordered that all schools, colleges and universities — government, private and aided — across entire Punjab shall remain completely closed for the next three days."

Earlier in the day, it was announced that an eight-hour blackout would be observed in Gurdaspur from 9 pm. An order issued by the Deputy Commissioner in this regard at that time said the move was taken to deal with the emergency situation under the Civil Defence Act, 1968.

Further, the use of celebratory fireworks has been prohibited in six border districts — Amritsar, Tarn Taran, Gurdaspur, Ferozepur, Fazilka and Pathankot. Amritsar Deputy Commissioner Sakshi Sahni, who issued an order imposing a blanket ban on the use of firecrackers in the district, said that the move is aimed at averting panic and ensuring that no law and order problem arises.

Though tensions had been simmering between India and Pakistan since the April 22 attack, the situation escalated after India launched precision strikes on terror camps in Pakistan and Pak-occupied Kashmir early on May 7.

Blackout in Guj border villages as drones fired

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AMID escalating tensions along the Gujarat border with Pakistan, six drones were spotted in the skies over Kutch on Thursday. According to sources, the Indian forces responded swiftly and shot down three, deepening concerns of cross-border attack. Amid the looming threat, a sweeping blackout plunged villages across Kutch and Banaskantha into darkness. Lights snapped off in Naliya, Nakhatrana, and Khawda, while rural pockets of Vav, Suigam, and Mavsari, too, blacked out, amplifying the growing fears along the tense frontier.

Amid escalating tensions following Operation Sindoor, a drone explosion jolted Gujarat's Kutch border on Thursday morning, putting security forces on high alert. The blast, which occurred before 6 am near a high-tension power line in Khawda in Bhuj taluka, has intensified concerns of cross-border threats.

Sources revealed that a large drone-like object had been hovering over the villages near the border since the wee hours, later drifting towards Khawda before crashing and exploding. The Air Force swiftly seized the wreckage for a detailed probe.

Pak attacks in Bikaner and Jaisalmer neutralised

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AMID deepening military escalation between India and Pakistan, blackouts were enforced in all the border districts across western Rajasthan on Thursday night amid unconfirmed reports that Pakistan launched a volley of missiles targetting border regions of Bikaner and Jaisalmer. Residents, too, reported attempted drone and missile attacks by Pakistan which were successfully neutralised by the Indian forces.

An air of deep anxiety prevails in western Rajasthan with high intensity sounds and flashes of light piercing the night sky being reported by border residents.

There is no official confirmation of these reports, as local authorities have not confirmed such incidents.

While the BSF has been given shoot at sight orders to ensure no enemy movement, the CM Bhajan Lal Sharma held a high level meeting with senior ministers, bureaucrats and police officers, to assess the latest situation at the border areas.

BOMB THREAT PROMPTS STADIUM EVACUATION

In Jaipur, a bomb threat via email led to evacuation of the Sawai Mansingh Stadium. The stadium, which hosts IPL matches in the state, was immediately cleared of staff and spectators. A large police force was deployed as security teams held extensive searches nothing was found.

Earlier in the day, India's air defences successfully neutralised multiple Pakistan missiles aimed at three key locations in Rajasthan – Nal (Bikaner), Phalodi, and Uttarlai (Barmer) – among 15 targeted cities, in the wee hours of Thursday.

All three locations host significant military installations in the desert region of western Rajasthan, which shares the longest stretch of border with the neighbouring country.

In response to rising tensions, the Pakistan Air Force has reportedly deployed F-16s, JF-17s, and other aircraft near the Rajasthan border.

Precautionary measures have been swiftly implemented across the state. Authorities have restricted civilian movement near the Jawai Dam in Pali district, and high-alert guidelines have been issued to all border districts. The entire 1,070-km international border with Pakistan has been sealed, and air defence systems have been activated in major cities.

There are also reports of heavy presence of Pakistan troops in villages near the border. Fighter jets have been conducting regular sorties day and night from over five airbases in the western sector.

India releases water from Salal, Baglihar

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE gates of two dams in J&K – Salal hydro project in Reasi and Baglihar hydro project in Ramban – were opened on Thursday allowing flow of Chenab water to Pakistan.

The gates were opened after the region witnessed heavy rain. "The water level in the dams increased due to heavy rain, necessitating release of water. Three gates of Salal power project and two gates of Baglihar project were opened on Thursday," an official said.

The water level in the Chenab river had dropped to a record low due to closure of gates of Salal and Baglihar projects last week to stop water flow to Pakistan after suspension of the Indus Waters Treaty (IWT) by India following the April 22 terror attack in Pahalgam on tourists.

"As against the Chenab flowing at a height of 25-30 feet, there was hardly 2 feet of water in the river after the gates of the two dams were closed last week to restrict flow of water to Pakistan," an official said.

Due to closure of the gates, the downstream water flow into Pakistan had reduced as Chenab had dried up. For the first time, people crossed the Chenab river in Akhnoor area of Jammu region on foot.

RAIN SPURRED STEP; WATER FLOWING TO PAK NOW

Water level in dams increased amid heavy rain, necessitating the step. Three gates of Salal power project and two gates of Baglihar project were opened on Thursday, allowing flow of Chenab water to Pakistan.

The dams of Baglihar (Ramban), Salal (Reasi) and Kishanganga (Bandipora) give India the capability and facility to regulate water release to Pakistan at its will and timing. As per IWT, India was granted unrestricted access to water from 'eastern rivers' — Sutlej, Beas, and Ravi — and Pakistan retained water rights on 'western rivers,' including the Indus, Jhelum and Chenab.

Welcome 'Sinduri': Bihar couple names newborn girl after Army op

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

A couple in Bihar has named their newborn baby after the armed forces' 'Operation Sindoor' targeted against terrorists' hubs in Pakistan and PoK as a retaliatory response to the Pahalgam terror attack.

Santosh Kumar Mandal (30) and his wife Rakhi Kumari (23), residents of Balthi Maheshpur in Katihar district, named their baby girl 'Sinduri'.

"Our baby was born on the day the Indian Army successfully launched 'Operation Sindoor'. It was a proud moment not only for us but also for the entire nation," said Santosh, who became father of his second daughter on May 7. Santosh's wife Rakhi was admitted to Katihar Seva Sadan on May 7 early morning, where she delivered the baby girl after a surgery. Asked how the idea struck him, Santosh said, "The airstrikes into Pakistan inculcated a sense of patriotism in me. I immediately decided to name my newborn daughter after the operation. My wife also approved it, and the baby was named Sinduri. May 7 will be a memorable day for the nation as well as our family. We will celebrate Sinduri's birthday every year which coincides with Operation Sindoor."

The parents want to encourage Sinduri to join the Air Force after completing her studies. "Though we come from a lower middleclass family, we will leave no stone unturned to fulfil our dream," Santosh told this reporter over phone on Thursday.

EU threatens to target US cars, planes if tariff talks fail

BRUSSELS

THE EU on Thursday threatened to target US cars and planes among a raft of products worth 95 billion euros ($107 billion) if negotiations with President Donald Trump's team fail to avert a trade war. The European Commission said it would, in parallel, file a complaint with the World Trade Organisation (WTO) over Trump's imposition of swingeing tariffs against the bloc.

The US leader announced a 20-percent "reciprocal" tariff on most EU goods in April, but he then froze the measure until July, along with higher duties on dozens of other nations. Trump, however, maintained a "baseline" 10 percent tariff on imports from around the world, including the 27-nation European Union.

The EU wants to strike a deal with the United States to prevent an all-out trade war, but is preparing its retaliation should Trump's tariffs kick in again. EU chief Ursula von der Leyen reiterated the bloc's determination to reach a negotiated solution and avoid painful tariffs on both sides. "The EU remains fully committed to finding negotiated outcomes with the US. We believe there are good deals to be made for the benefit of consumers and businesses on both sides of the Atlantic," she said. Trump has also rolled out 25-percent tariffs on imports of steel, aluminium and cars. AP

Ukraine ratifies US deal, slams Russia on truce

KYIV

RUSSIA and Ukraine both reported attacks on their forces on the first day of a 72-hour ceasefire called by President Vladimir Putin. Ukrainian Foreign Minister Andrii Sybiha accused Russia of violating its own ceasefire 734 times between midnight and midday Thursday. He called the ceasefire a "farce" on the social media platform X.

His comments came as Ukraine's parliament unanimously approved a landmark minerals deal with the US Ratification is a key step in setting in motion a deal which will allow Washington access to Ukraine's largely untapped minerals, deepen strategic ties and create a joint investment fund with the US for the reconstruction of Ukraine.

"This document is not merely a legal construct, it is the foundation of a new model of interaction with a key strategic partner," Ukraine's Economy Minister Yuliia Svyrydenko wrote on X.

Russian bombs struck northeast Ukraine in the opening hours of Moscow's unilateral ceasefire, killing at least one civilian, Ukrainian officials said. The ceasefire coincides with Russia's biggest secular holiday, the 80th anniversary of victory over Nazi Germany. Kyiv has pressed for a longer-term ceasefire.

Putin on Thursday welcomed Chinese President Xi Jinping in the Kremlin. Xi, who Putin earlier described as "our main guest" at Friday's Victory Day festivities, arrived in Russia on Wednesday for a four-day visit.

Putin said that "the brotherhood of arms between our peoples, which developed during the harsh war years, is one of the fundamental foundations of modern Russian-Chinese relations of comprehensive partnership and strategic cooperation." AP

ROBERT FRANCIS PREVOST OF U.S. BECOMES POPE, ADDRESSES WORLD

He is first American pope in Catholic church history; talks to faithful, says peace by with you

VATICAN CITY

ROBERT Francis Prevost became the first pope from the United States on Thursday, picking the papal name Leo XIV after cardinals from around the world elected him leader of the world's 1.4 billion Catholics.

Tens of thousands of people packed in St Peter's Square cheered as Prevost appeared on the balcony of St Peter's Basilica, waving with both hands, smiling and bowing.

"Peace by with you," he told the crowds.

White smoke from the Sistine Chapel had billowed into the sky on the cardinals' second day of voting to announce his election in a secret conclave, while the bells of St Peter's Basilica and churches across Rome rang out. Crowds of people rushed towards the square to watch the balcony of the basilica, which has been fitted out with red curtains for the first address to the world by the 267th pope.

The crowd listen to newly elected Pope Leo XIV, Robert Prevost addressing the crowd from the main central loggia balcony of the St Peter's Basilica | AFP

The new pontiff, who succeeds Argentine reformer Pope Francis, was introduced in Latin with his chosen papal name.

"It's an amazing feeling," said an elated Joseph Brian, a 39-year-old chef from Belfast in Northern Ireland, who came with his mother to Rome for the spectacle.

"I'm not an overly religious person but, being here with all these people just blew me away," he told AFP as people around him jumped up and down in excitement.

There were euphoric scenes as one priest sat on someone's shoulders waving a Brazilian flag and another lifted a heavy crucifix into the air in jubilation.

"Habemus papam, woooo!" howled Bruna Hodara, 41, from Brazil, echoing the words to be spoken on the balcony as the new pope is introduced.

She, like others, recorded the historic moment on her phone, as others waved flags and cried out "Viva Il Papa!" -- "Long live the pope!" in Italian.

The new pope now faces a momentous task: as well as asserting his moral voice on a conflict-torn global stage, he must try to unite a divided Church and tackle burning issues such as the the continued fall-out from the sexual abuse scandal.

The election has come at a time of great geopolitical uncertainty, which was seen as a key voting issue, along with the rifts within the Church.

Francis was a compassionate reformer who prioritised migrants and the environment, but he angered traditionalists who wanted a defender of doctrine rather than a headline-maker.

Some 80 percent of the cardinal electors were appointed by Francis. AFP

FROM PERU'S PERIPHERY TO THE PAPACY

VATICAN CITY

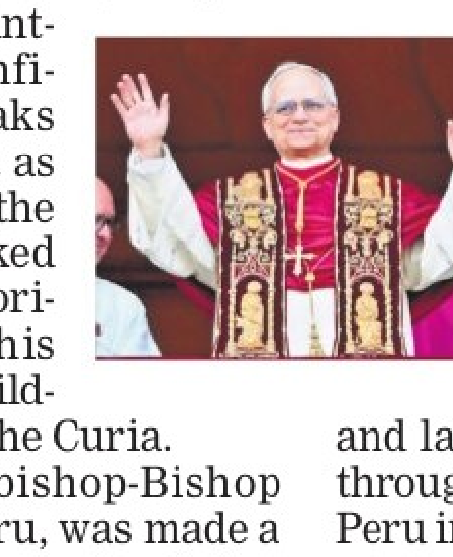
ROBERT Francis Prevost, the first pope from the United States, has a history of missionary work in Peru but also a keen grasp of the inner workings of the Church.

The new Leo XIV, a Chicago native, was entrusted by his predecessor Francis to head the powerful Dicastery for Bishops, charged with advising the pontiff on new bishop appointments. The sign of confidence from Francis speaks to Prevost's commitment as a missionary in Peru to the "peripheries" — overlooked areas far from Rome prioritised by Francis — and his reputation as a bridge-builder and moderate within the Curia.

The 69-year-old Archbishop-Bishop emeritus of Chiclayo, Peru, was made a cardinal by Francis in 2023 after being named prefect of the dicastery, one of the Vatican's most important departments — and a post that introduced him to all key players in the Church.

Italian newspaper La Repubblica called him "the least American of the Americans" for his soft-spoken touch.

His strong grounding in canon law has also been seen as reassuring to more conservative cardinals seeking a greater focus on theology. Born on September 14, 1955, in Chicago, Prevost attended a minor seminary of the Order of St Augustine in St Louis as a novice before graduating from Philadelphia's Villanova University, an Augustinian institution, with a degree in mathematics.



After receiving a masters degree in divinity from Chicago's Catholic Theological Union in 1982, and a doctorate decree in canon law in Rome, the polyglot joined the Augustinians in Peru in 1985. Returning to Chicago in 1999, he was made provincial prior of the Augustinians in the US Midwest and later the prior general of the order throughout the world. But he returned to Peru in 2014 when Francis appointed him as apostolic administrator of the Diocese of Chiclayo in the country's north. Nearly a decade later, Prevost became dicastery head in 2023 after Cardinal Ouellet resigned amid a sexual assault allegation later dropped for lack of evidence. He also leads the Pontifical Commission for Latin America. AFP

S'PORE NAVY TO REPLACE SHIPS WITH DRONES

THE REPUBLIC OF SINGAPOre Navy will deploy unmanned systems from 2027 to detect and neutralise naval mines, replacing its Bedok-class vessels. ST Engineering, awarded a Mindef contract, will supply unmanned surface vessels, underwater vehicles, and control infrastructure. These systems, featuring autonomous navigation, remote-controlled payloads, and real-time data transmission, aim to enhance maritime security while keeping personnel safe. A new simulation system will support training. The move aligns with global naval trends.

FTA: 'No adverse effect on auto, liquor sectors'

Govt sources dismiss fear raised by the industry players that proposed reduction in tariff would hurt the 2 sectors

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

DISMISSING the concern raised by the alcoholic beverages and auto industries over proposed import tariff reduction, the government sources have said that resistance from these two sectors had been holding up a very progressive free trade agreement (FTA) with the UK for a long time.

A top government official told this newspaper that the UK free trade agreement would not affect the two sectors adversely. Citing the example of the liquor industry, the government official said that more scotch whiskey is sold in India than it is produced in Scotland.

"Scotch whiskey being a GI (Geographical Indication) product, it is anyways produced in a limited quantity and most of it is imported to developed world, therefore, to expect lower tariffs would lead to flooding of Indian market is wrong," said the government official, who was closely associated with the trade negotiations.

India imports less than $500 million alcoholic beverages, of which around $350 million comes from the UK.

The official told this newspaper that domestic brands of liquors are also getting popular globally, and as a result of the trade deal, they will have access to the UK market.

Under the UK trade agreement, whisky tariffs will fall from 150% to 40%, while automotive tariffs will decline to 10% under a quota system. Currently, auto imports into India attract a 100% tariff.

The Confederation of Indian Alcoholic Beverage Companies (CIABC), in a statement has said the government has not fully heeded to the pleas of the Indian alcoholic beverage industry.

It fears that if the same template of duty reduction is followed for the trade deals with the European Union (EU), the US and other nations, then the Indian Alcobev industry, including the wine sector, could get adversely impacted. On the auto sector, commerce ministry officials said that the duty reduction would happen over 10-15 years, and that low-cost futuristic cars have been protected from the impact of tariff reduction under the treaty.

Though the commerce ministry has not given out the details of the quota to be followed with respect to auto tariff reduction, a ministry government official said that the quota would be based on engine capacity and prices.

Meanwhile, the ministry officials have said that the text of the agreement would be released in three months, while the implementation could take another year. "The free trade agreement would now go for ratification in the UK parliament, which may take a year," said an official.

CIABC raises concerns over tariff reduction

The Confederation of Indian Alcoholic Beverage Companies, in a statement said the government has not heeded to the pleas of the Indian alcoholic beverage industry. It fears that if same duty cut is followed for the trade deals with EU, the US and other nations, then the Indian alcobev industry, including wine sector, will be adversely

Starlink needs to submit docs within 21 days for licence

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

ELON MUSK-led Starlink must submit all required documents, including applicable fees, to obtain a Global Mobile Personal Communication by Satellite (GMPCS) licence in India within the next 21 days. Starlink, the satellite internet service developed by SpaceX, received a letter of intent (LoI) to provide satellite broadband services in India on Thursday. Musk's company becomes the third such operator in the country after Eutelsat OneWeb and Jio Satellite Communications.

"After receiving the LoI, the company must complete all documentation and submit it to the Department of Telecommunications (DoT). Once all formalities are fulfilled, the GMPCS license will be issued, allowing the company to start its services," said a DoT official.

This marks the formal entry of Elon Musk, the world's richest man, into India's communication services sector. Starlink has been attempting to enter India's satellite communications market since 2021 but has yet to receive the required GMPCS license. In fact, the company had started accepting orders before receiving formal approval to operate in India. Subsequently, the government instructed the company to refund customers. Starlink currently operates in over 125 countries.

It must now obtain approval from the Indian National Space Promotion and Authorization Centre (IN-SPACe). After this, the DoT will allocate test spectrum for service demonstrations. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) is expected to make recommendations on pricing for administrative allocation of satellite spectrum, after which it can begin offering services.

However, the application from Jeff Bezos-owned Amazon Kuiper is yet to be approved. As per reports, Apple's satcom partner Globalstar is among the global players interested in offering broadband-from-space services in India.

"Amazon Kuiper's application is still pending with the DoT. Once it fulfills and accepts all the required norms like Starlink, the government will issue it a letter of intent as well," the official added.

Satellite communication (Satcom) uses satellites to transmit data and voice across areas where traditional fiber-optic cables are impractical. Satcom is mainly valuable in rural, mountainous, and disaster-prone regions where terrestrial networks are either too expensive or impossible to deploy.

Mid, small-cap stocks fall amid border tension

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity markets fell sharply in the final twenty minutes of Thursday's trading session amid renewed escalation between India and Pakistan. The Ministry of Defence said Indian forces neutralized air defense radars and related systems at several locations in Lahore early Thursday.

India described the action, part of "Operation Sindoor", as a measured military response to Pakistan's attempted drone and missile attacks on multiple Indian military installations the previous night.

While Indian equities had shown resilience on Wednesday—with benchmark indices Sensex and Nifty closing in the green after India conducted missile strikes on Pakistani territory under "Operation Sindoor," fresh retaliatory actions and Pakistan's aggressive response began weighing on market sentiment.

The BSE Sensex closed at 80,334.81, down 411.97 points (0.51%), while the NSE Nifty50 fell 140.60 points (0.58%) to 24,273.80. The volatility index, India VIX, surged 10.21%, signaling heightened market uncertainty.

Gold loans surge 87% in first 11 months of FY25

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

BANKS' incremental gold loan disbursals soared 87.4% to ₹1.91 lakh crore till the first 11 months of fiscal 2025 from ₹1.02 lakh crore in FY24 and from ₹1.72 lakh crore in December 2024. The industry is expecting see 100% rise by the end of the current financial year.

With March numbers yet to be added, the full-year gold loan growth could be about 104%, making it the fastest-growing secured loan segments in the country's formal credit market, said an analyst. FY25 saw gold loans doubling and emerged as the fastest-growing consumer credit segment, outpacing all retail advances like housing and vehicles, and even unsecured products such as credit cards and personal loans.

In the past five years alone, the gold loan books of banks have more than doubled-- from ₹60,724 crore in FY21 to ₹1.91 lakh crore crore till February of FY25. Between January 2024 when the outstanding stood at ₹1,01,552 crore, banks added ₹89,500 crore to the AUM.

SBI leads the gold rush chart, adding over ₹50,011 crore to the portfolio in the past fiscal, 25% of the market pie. Federal Bank's gold loan book rose 24% to ₹30,505 crore in the March quarter. Large private sector lenders like HDFC Bank and ICICIC Bank do not offer a breakup of their retail book, in which gold loan is a part.As per the latest RBI data, banks' incremental gold loan disbursals soared 71.3% to ₹1.72 lakh crore during the first three quarter of FY25 as against 17% growth in the trailing 12 months period on the back of rising prices of the metal and slowdown in unsecured loan following a rise in risk weights last year. This is in despite the higher risk weighting that the asset class attract for banks since November 2023, when the RBI had raised risk weight for unsecured loans by 25 percentage points to 125%."Over the last year, gold loan growth has increased, with a 68% rise from April 2024 to December 2024," Ajit Velonie, senior director at Crisil Ratings had said in a recent note.

Tesla's country head resigns ahead of co's India entry

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TESLA country head for India - Prashanth Menon - has resigned ahead of the U.S. electric carmaker's planned entry into the world's third-largest car market. As per a Bloomberg report, Tesla's China teams will oversee the Tesla's India operations, with no immediate successor named.

Menon is also stepping down as the chairman of Tesla India's board, added the report citing sources. Tesla is yet to issue a statement on Menon's departure and his successor.

The Elon Musk firm has been trying to enter the Indian market for years. The brand has already secured showroom locations in Delhi and Mumbai to begin selling imported cars here. It has also posted close to two dozen mid-level jobs here this year, signaling progress in its plans to launch in the country. The company CFO Vaibhav Taneja had last month said Tesla is cautiously navigating an entry into the Indian market. Tesla stated that high taxes remain a concern as this makes Tesla cars in India twice as expensive as it is in the US.

Taneja, however, called India a "very hot market" owing to its growing middle class. The CFO's statement on the long-awaited India's entry came soon after Tesla CEO Musk spoke with India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi on topics including collaboration on technology and innovation. Musk is expected to visit India later this year.

Separately, India and the USA have been working on a bilateral trade deal. The ongoing trade talks between the two countries, which could lower tariffs on imported EVs, are seen as a critical factor in Tesla's market entry.

Reliance withdraws 'Operation Sindoor' trademark application a day after filing

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

Reliance
Industries Limited
Growth is Life

A day after applying for Operation Sindoor as its trademark, Reliance Industries (RIL) stated that it has no intention of doing so. Three private persons had also applied for the same.

In a statement on Thursday, RIL said, "We have no intention of trademarking Operation Sindoor, a phrase which is a part of the national consciousness as an evocative symbol of Indian bravery. Jio Studios, a unit of RIL, has withdrawn its trademark application, which was filed inadvertently by a junior person without authorisation."

The statement further said RIL and its stakeholders are proud of the military action on Pakistan code named 'Operation Sindoor'. "Operation Sindoor is the proud achievement of our brave armed forces in the naiton's uncompromising fight against the evil of terrorism," it said.

Later in another statement issued on behalf group chairman Mukesh Ambani, the company quoted him as saying, "We are proud of our armed forces for Operation Sindoor. India stands united, fierce in resolve and unshakable in purpose, against the scourge of all forms of terrorism. Our armed forces have responded with precision and power to every provocation from across the border. ..The last few days have shown that every threat to our peace will be met with firm and decisive action." Amabni said his group is ready to support any measure in protecting the nation's unity and integrity. "Together, we will stand. We will fight. And we will prevail".

In fact, many companies had applied for trademarking Following Operation Sindoor.

The applicants included RIL and three private individuals -- Mukesh Chetram Agrawal, retired group captain Kamal Singh Oberh, and one Alok Kothari. Each had independently filed for trademark of Operation Sindoor under Class 41, encompassing educational and entertainment services, according to media reports.

'OUR TARGET IS TO ACHIEVE 40% CASA BY FY26'

PUNJAB National Bank, the third-largest PSU bank, has posted very healthy fourth quarter financial numbers. Managing Director and CEO Ashok Chandra spoke with Dipak Mondal about the bank's Q4 result and its key focus areas in the new financial year.

Profits are up, net interest margin has improved, cost of funds is down and asset quality has strengthened. Do you still see any pain points?

One area we are focusing on is RAM (retail, agriculture, MSME) and CASA (current account savings account) segments. This year, our main theme is better customer service, supported by improved branch and ATM ambience. We've launched initiatives to strengthen these segments, and you'll see visible changes in two to three months.

Could you elaborate on the CASA initiatives?

On April 12, we launched 34 initiatives to revamp CASA products. These offerings are competitive, not just among public sector banks, but across the industry. We've designed products for salaried individuals across income levels, non-salaried customers, women, youth, farmers, senior citizens, and prisoners.We've opened 1.8 lakh accounts under these segments, mobilising ₹300 crore.

CASA currently stands 38%. Do you have a target for the next financial year?

While our public projection remains at 38%, our internal target is to cross 40%.

With interest rates coming down, will it be harder to mobilise deposits?

Despite rate changes, deposit growth remains strong. Last year, deposit growth was 14%, exceeding our credit growth of 13.6%. From April 2025, we've seen continued growth in retail term and individual savings deposits. CASA has seen pressure due to institutional current accounts, but overall, deposit mobilisation remains robust.

Are you still seeing inflows after lowering deposit rates?

Yes. After discontinuing a 400-day, 7.25% scheme in April, we launched a 390-day scheme at 7.1%, under which we mobilised ₹8,000 crore this month alone.

Net interest income (NII) growth has been somewhat muted. What's the reason?

This is due to increased cost of deposits, as we had to mobilise more funds to support growing advances. We've utilised these deposits wisely, including building a strong Treasury book. In FY26, you'll see a healthy uptick in other income from Treasury gains.

RBI has expressed concern about growth in unsecured loans. What's the status at PNB?

Our unsecured book is quite contained and focused. It includes personal loans (₹18,666 cr), primarily to salaried individuals with accounts at PNB, education loans (₹2,500 cr), and credit cards (₹1,100 cr). We don't foresee issues.

You're not aggressive in the credit card space. Are there plans to scale up?

No, we're not planning aggressive expansion. We want to enhance our systems before ramping up credit card issuance.

What's the size of your gold loan book, and do you plan to scale it up?

Our gold loan book stands at ₹13,777 crore, including ₹11,500 crore in agri and ₹2,244 crore in retail. Compared to peers, it's modest. We have no immediate plans to expand.

What's the impact of the recent Supreme Court order on Bhushan Power & Steel? PNB has about ₹6,000 crore exposure.

There will be no long-term impact. We'll meet with other Committee of Creditors (CoC) members — 32 lenders in total—and consult legal counsel. The unit remains a going concern, and any resolution will benefit our bottom line.

Do you think the ruling surprised the industry?

I wouldn't like to comment on that.

Biocon net profit rises 154% to ₹344 cr; revenue at ₹4,454 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

BIOCON on Thursday posted a 154% increase in its consolidated net profit at ₹344.5 crore for the quarter ended March 2025 compared to ₹135.5 crore in the year-ago period.

Consolidated revenue stood at ₹4,454 crore and EBITDA was up 16% at ₹1,115 crore. EBITDA margin stood at 25%. "The Biocon Group ended the year with a strong performance across its businesses. The launch of Liraglutide in the UK market heralded our entry into GLP-1 therapy segment. Our Biosimilars continue to build impressive shares in global markets with four biosimilars recording sales of $200 million each in FY25," said Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw, Chairperson, Biocon Group.

Canara Bank profit soars 33% to ₹5,003 cr on better asset quality

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE fourth-largest public sector lender, Canara Bank, on Thursday reported 33.2% jump in net income at ₹5,002.7 crore for the March quarter on improved asset quality and other income as its core income slipped marginally during the reporting period.

Apart from improvement in asset quality, other key metrics that helped bottom line surge are a 20% jump in fee income at ₹2,335 crore, a 4 bps fall in credit cost at 0.92% and a 38 bps fall in the slippage ratio at 0.90. The Bengaluru-based bank said its total income rose 9.8% to ₹37,352.8 crore in Q4FY25, of which net interest income fell 1.44% to ₹9,442 crore as against ₹9,580 crore in Q4FY24.

Cricket West Indies closely monitoring Ind-Pak situation

Cricket West Indies has said that they are monitoring the situation in India and Pakistan regarding their players who are taking part in IPL and PSL. "We have also engaged our strategic partner, West Indies Players' Association (WIPA), to coordinate and ensure the safety, security, and well-being of all West Indies players and support personnel in the region," its statement read.

BLACKOUT, EVACUATION AS IPL FUTURE UNCERTAIN

In an unprecedented move, PBKS vs DC match was called off mid-way due to security concerns in Dharamsala on Thursday; teams, spectators evacuated safely

Fans being evacuated from the HPCA Stadium in Dharamsala on Thursday | PTI

THE Indian Premier League (IPL) match between Punjab Kings and Delhi Capitals at Dharamsala was called off midway as a result of the rising tension between India and Pakistan following Operation Sindoor which was launched after last month's terror attacks in Pahalgam.

With the neighbouring country reportedly launching a series of projectiles on Thursday evening, the local administration began an evacuation process shortly after 9.00 PM. With the Himachal Pradesh Cricket Association Stadium also witnessing a situation with floodlights, the organisers had no choice but to arrive at the conclusion. From a broader perspective, nobody really knows if the 18th edition of the league will continue on Friday as the situation is very fluid, dynamic and is changing on a hourly basis. "It will depend on how the situation develops," BCCI vice-president, Rajiv Shukla, told this daily. "Today there were security concerns in Jammu and Pathankot, which were close to Dharamsala, that is why we called off the match. Tomorrow we don't know what will happen, based on that we will take a decision," Shukla said.

Arun Dhumal, IPL Governing Council chairman, said, "we called off this match as a precautionary measure." "We will see what to do next," Dhumal, who was at the venue, informed this daily. Even if the call for cancellation only came after 9.00 PM, the district administration had prepared for this eventuality hours ago.

Around 10.45 PM, the Government's Ministry of Defence confirmed the attempted attack on Pathankot. "Military stations at Jammu, Pathankot & Udhampur were targeted by Pakistani-origin drones and missiles along the International Border in J&K today," they posted on X. "The threats were swiftly neutralised using kinetic and non-kinetic capabilities in line with established Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs). No casualties or material losses were reported."

Around 20k evacuated in half-an-hour

Air raid alerts in the nearby areas had already forced a blackout and then began the toughest job of evacuating crowd safely. "The disaster plan was in place as district administration has prepared it well in advance," Avnish Parmar, HPCA secretary, who played a key role in the evacuation process, told this daily. It took around half-an-hour to empty the capacity crowd but as per Parmar, it all went off smoothly.

"We have five main gates and 13 inner gates. As I said, the district administration was well prepared for any eventuality. The teams and others at the venue were evacuated simultaneously. The district administration had already formed teams to deal with the situation and we played the roles we have been assigned," he said.

Even if the evacuation process commenced shortly before Punjab's innings came to a halt, fans had started leaving the stadium from just after 9.00 PM. "I got a message about the situation in the surrounding areas so I decided to leave," a fan who regularly attends IPL games in Dharamsala told this daily. Multiple people who were at the ground have since confirmed to this newspaper that the ground's public address system wasn't used so as to avoid panic. Instead, members from the operations team executed the evacuation plan.

TIMELINE OF EVENTS

Evening after 4.00 PM: Both teams leave for stadium from hotel.

Post 7.00 PM: Toss delayed with some rain in the air. Meanwhile, initial reports break on news channels about Pakistan launching an attack in Jammu and Rajasthan.

After 8.00 PM: News begins filtering in to the public about the situation in areas like Pathankot and Jammu.

Post 8.30 PM: Ready for this exact scenario in the afternoon itself, district administration prepares to evacuate crowd. Punjab are batting but match is seemingly headed towards an early conclusion.

After 9.00 PM:

- Even before crowd is asked to evacuate, people begin leaving the stadium. One of them exits the premises after being asked to do so by an employee associated with one of the two teams.
- Floodlights begin to fail but there's no official explanation, at least not immediately.
- In the background, an operations team asks support staff to leave. The crowd is also asked to leave. However, there's no announcement on the public address system as they want to avoid panic and chaos.
- Match is officially called off more than 10 minutes after the teams leave the field and both teams are escorted back to the hotel on road.

Special trains for teams, broadcast crew on Friday

With the PBKS vs DC match called off midway on Thursday, teams, broadcasting crew and everyone were evacuated from the HPCA Stadium. It is learnt that the Indian cricket board (BCCI) will arrange a special train on Friday for the players, support staff and broadcasting crew to leave the place safely.

After Rohit exit, who'll take over?

Shubman Gill (L), Jasprit Bumrah (C) and KL Rahul's names have been doing rounds to take up captaincy role in Test format | AFP

IT has been a topic of debate since Jasprit Bumrah walked off the field in the fifth Test between India and Australia earlier this year. Back then, there were question marks over whether Rohit Sharma will continue, and if he doesn't, who will be considered as the next in line for Test captaincy. One aspect of it is now settled.

Rohit is no longer an international Test cricketer. The Indian captain has called it a day and now, the ball is in the court of the senior men's selection committee headed by Ajit Agarkar to name a new captain and vice-captain for the five-Test series beginning on June 20. Among the names floated, India's No 3 Shubman Gill seems to be the front-runner. The 25-year-old has been groomed as a future captain by the BCCI and selectors for at least a year now. He was named the T20I skipper for the tour of Zimbabwe shortly after the T20 World Cup last year. Earlier in February, he was named Rohit's deputy in the 50-over format as he is groomed to take over from the former in the future. So, there is little doubt that he will be captaining India in all formats down the line.

Which is why, his name is being floated as a front-runner to take charge, especially with the concerns over Bumrah's workload and injury worries over the course of five Tests. Former chief selector MSK Prasad feels if the BCCI is looking at a long-term option, Gill could be the one, but if they are looking at the upcoming World Test Championship cycle, Bumrah and KL Rahul could be alternate options.

"If you are looking at a long-term solution, Shubman Gill is definitely a long-term solution. Or, if you are looking at this cycle, Bumrah also could turn out to be a solution. The three people who must be in the race, according to me, are Bumrah, Shubman Gill and KL Rahul," Prasad told this daily. While there is no doubt about Gill's credentials in ODIs, he is still finding his feet in Test cricket and is not a regular in the T20I side.

His numbers in red-ball cricket, especially away from home, are not glittering. From 42.03 at home, Gill's average drops to 29.5 away as the youngster has had trouble with lateral movement. Which makes one wonder whether captaincy will add additional pressure on the youngster especially in a long series such as England.

"There is a long way to go for Gill. It is a no-brainer that he is a player who will be playing all three formats going forward. So, definitely, you can ease him in as and when required. In the next 1-1.5 years, slowly, he will be the guy who will be leading across all three formats. So, give him that opportunity to be groomed nicely rather than hurrying him up."

Prasad believes Gill could be named vice-captain with Bumrah being his first-choice candidate for captaincy.

"I would say that if you see past the injuries, I think right now Bumrah is the right choice. You have seen how he has led the sides whenever he got an opportunity. He is the number one bowler in the world today. He is also one sort of a character who can gel with any generation. At least Bumrah is one guy whom we can look at in the next two-year cycle," he said, before adding, "I am 100 per cent sure that he knows his limitations. At times, what happens is, someone who is the number one bowler in the world, leading from the front, I think it brings a lot of positive energy to the side. If you can make Bumrah as captain and make Gill as his deputy, as and when required, in case of any other series where Bumrah is rested, then Gill can be slowly groomed into that particular role."

Meanwhile, Prasad also felt that if the selectors do not want to risk Bumrah's fitness, Rahul could be the other option. He has captained India in the past, and has come to his own at the top of the order during the Australia tour.

"He is cool, he is calm and he also thrives well under pressure situations. He is in a good mental space right now. He is a personality who can easily adjust and adapt to any other guy. The people can revolve around him nicely because he is that sort of a personality," said Prasad. "I would say that both Bumrah and KL Rahul are very, very successful players in English conditions. Remember, KL got a couple of hundreds in England. So, either of them, I am okay to start off with." Who will get the final nod, we will know in the coming weeks.

> If you can make Bumrah as captain and make Gill as his deputy, as and when required, in case of any other series where Bumrah is rested, then Gill can be slowly groomed into that particular role.

With left-hander Padikkal, their second-most leading scorer, ruled out for the season, other batters from Bengaluru have to step up if they wish to win the elusive title. As far Padikkal's replacement is concerned, Swastik Chikara is frontrunner to fill the spot.

TAIPEI OPEN

Srikanth shows fight but runs out of steam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

K Srikanth lost a hard-fought match against Ayush Shetty on Thursday

KIDAMBI Srikanth was once regarded as the undisputed king of Indian badminton in the men's department. At his peak, he had the ability to overwhelm his rivals with his potent game, a method that helped him fetch numerous highs in his career, including attaining the No 1 status in 2018.

But that is now in the distant past as the 32-year-old, visibly lacking that fire-power in his game, has become a sort of a forgotten man at the moment. On Thursday, Srikanth put up a spirited fight against a younger opponent (12 years younger than him) in the form of Ayush Shetty in the ongoing Taipei Open 2025 (a BWF Super 300 event). Srikanth employed some trademark smashes, made some sharp returns but eventually ran out of steam to lose the Round of 16 men's singles tie in three games (21-16, 15-21, 21-17).

It's yet another tough lesson for the 2021 World Champions silver medallist, who has endured a steep fall, especially since the turn of 2023. He was ranked as high as World No 13 at the start of 2023. Currently, Srikanth is as low as World No 82. His sharp decline has hurt the Indian national team. There were hints of improvement on the day but Srikanth desperately needs some form of spark in order to regain his old form. Ayush, who secured a quarterfinal ticket after this latest result, will be hoping to go the distance. He will take on Brian Yang, the No 7 seed, on Friday.

Teenager Unnati Hooda also entered the quarterfinal stage of the women's singles category with a 21-12, 21-7 win over Chinese Taipei's Lin Sih Yun. The 17-year-old Indian will face Hung Yi-Ting, another opponent from Chinese Taipei, in the last-eight stage on Friday.

Swiatek makes fast start at Italian Open

AGENCIES @ Rome

IGA Swiatek dismissed Elisabetta Cocciaretto in just 52 minutes as she opened her account at the Italian Open on Thursday.

World No 2 Swiatek came to Italy on the back of a demoralising straight-sets defeat to Coco Gauff in the semi-finals of the Madrid Open. But the 23-year-old Pole dropped just a single game in winning 6-1, 6-0 against Italian Cocciaretto to move onto a third-round meeting with either American Danielle Collins or Elena-Gabriela Ruse of Romania. "I felt like the ball was kind of listening to me today and I had full control over the match, so it's always pretty comfortable to play a match like that," Swiatek said. "You just need to continue the work you've been doing and not expect that it's going to happen more often."

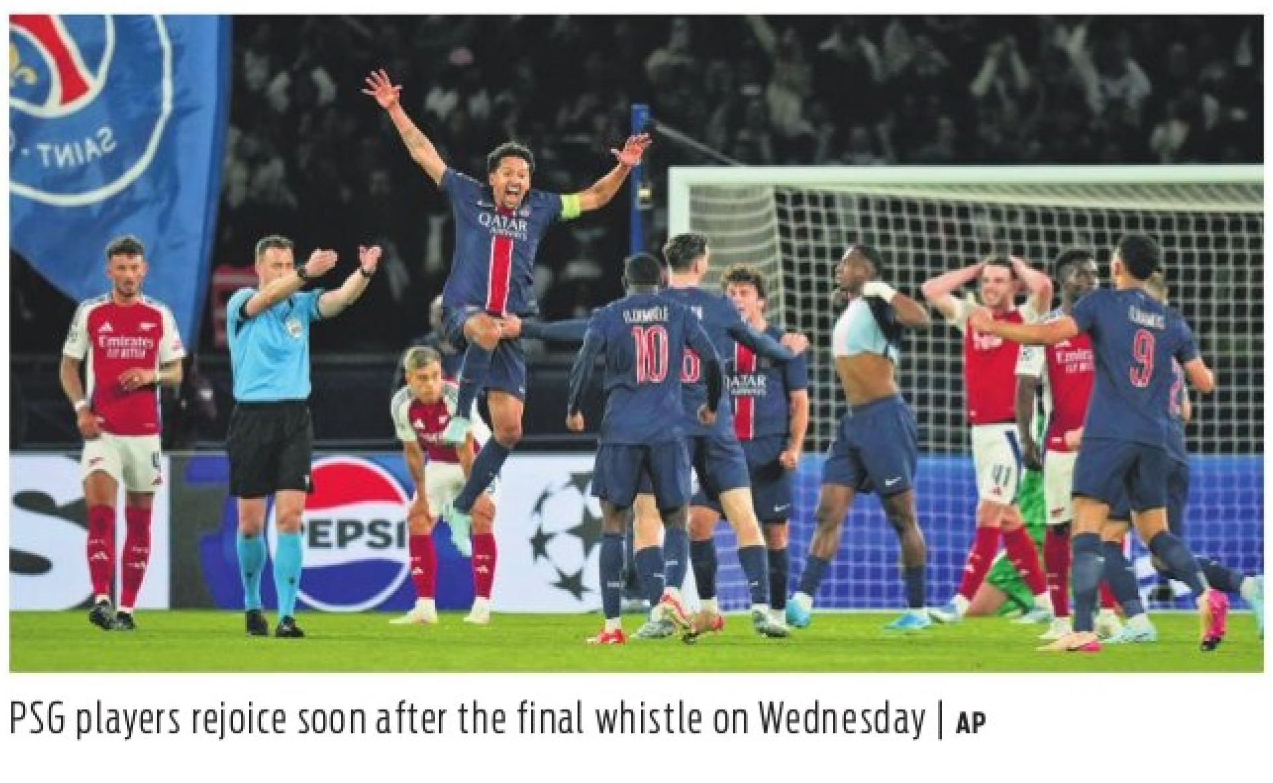
Swiatek is a three-time winner of the Italian Open and is using the claycourt tournament as a key step towards her defence of her French Open title, but she is yet to win a tournament this season.

In another second-round match, former World No 1 Naomi Osaka came from behind to overcome lucky loser Viktorija Golubic 2-6, 7-5, 6-1.

CHAMPIONS LEAGUE

French toast: Thrilling PSG edge closer to elusive CL trophy

AGENCIES @ Paris



PSG players rejoice soon after the final whistle on Wednesday | AP

PARIS Saint-Germain's achievement in reaching the Champions League final is vindication for the club's decision to abandon its policy of amassing superstars and instead put faith in a hungry young team led by Luis Enrique.

If PSG in past years under their Qatari owners have consistently stumbled on big occasions, the Spaniard's thrilling side has taken Europe by storm this season. The 2-1 win over Arsenal at a rocking Parc des Princes on Wednesday, secured thanks to goals by Fabian Ruiz and Achraf Hakimi, clinched a 3-1 aggregate semifinal triumph and set up a meeting with Inter Milan in the final in Munich on May 31.

PSG, the perennial French champions, have defeated four clubs from the mighty Premier League on this run, their victory against the Gunners following wins over Manchester City, Liverpool and Aston Villa since January. They have done it with a youthful side in which six starters against Arsenal were 24 or under, and the oldest player is captain Marquinhos, at 30 — compare that to Inter who had two 36-year-olds and one 37-year-old playing against Barcelona a day earlier.

Wednesday's win sparked wild celebrations around the French capital, with fans partying on the Champs-Elysees in scenes unimaginable late last year, although the party descended into sporadic violence as the night wore on. PSG lost three of their first five Champions League games this season and appeared in real danger of early elimination. That was off the back of the departure of Kylian Mbappe, their all-time top scorer, following last season's semi-final exit to Borussia Dortmund.

Mbappe must have thought he had a better chance of winning the Champions League with Real Madrid and at that point PSG seemed further away than ever from getting their hands on the prize. But Luis Enrique, appointed in 2023 just as Lionel Messi and Neymar left the club, has completely transformed the side, and PSG have hit new heights in the second half.

Wednesday's result: Semifinal, second leg: PSG (FRA) 2 (Ruiz 27', Hakimi 72') Arsenal (ENG) 1 (Saka 76'). PSG win 3-1 on aggregate

Vibe coding helps developers focus on prompting, reviewing and iterating the code, essentially letting the process be driven by "vibes." . This involves embracing more intuitive, high-level conceptualization and iterative refinement guided by prompts. This reduces grunt work and makes software development more enjoyable

VIBE CODING: NOW, CODING IS MORE ACCESSIBLE

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

VIBE coding, the term which was coined in February this year, has now emerged as a trend in the software development space. Rather than manually writing code, developers rely on Large Language Models (LLMs) to generate code.

Ganesh Sahai, CTO, Nagarro said there is significant investment going into the development of AI-assisted tooling to cater to all stages of the Software Development Lifecycle (SDLC), such as requirement gathering, design, coding, testing, delivery, production, and maintenance.

"The traditional ways of working in these stages are being augmented with AI tools. These tools enable more conversational ways of achieving goals," he said.

For example, a coder or tester may now use a tool like Cursor to speak and give prompt-based instructions, which are converted to text and can be further edited to specify the functionality to be implemented or tested. The code thus generated—previously written manually—can be improved further through refined prompts or direct edits.

This approach reduces grunt work, makes software development more enjoyable, and adds a cool vibe. This new AI-assisted method is sometimes referred to as vibe coding, he added.

Vibe coding helps developers focus on prompting, reviewing and iterating the code, essentially letting the process be driven by "vibes." This involves embracing more intuitive, high-level conceptualization and iterative refinement guided by prompts, explained Praveen Ojha, Chief Technologist, EPAM Systems, India.

How useful is it for clients?

This would mean that the time lag from feature idea to production is going to reduce significantly. Hence, the pace at which clients can experiment and create business impact is going to move faster. "As we move into the future, developers will need to be more skilled at participating in conversations that help shape features. This will require a deeper understanding of business requirements and, as a result, the development of a product manager–like mindset. However, it is also important that the auto-generated code is well understood by the developer and, if needed, properly debugged. Therefore, strong coding skills will still be essential," Sahai added.

The roles of product manager and developer may begin to merge. "In fact, the essence of various conversations among team members may increasingly be fed directly into AI tools to develop features and push them to production. This will unleash cross-functional collaboration to the next level, as has long been envisioned in an ideal agile team. In a way, these AI tools are evolving into fellow developers—engaging in meaningful conversations and taking over the grunt work," he further added. Praveen Ojha said from an efficiency standpoint, vibe coding can result in faster turnaround cycles for developers, reduced manual work and increased focus on strategic thinking. However, the idea of letting an AI write production-grade code can stir both fascination and doubt.

According to him, some see the promise of near-instant productivity, while others worry about unleashing legions of unmaintainable scripts into our codebases. "Being the frontliners of modern engineering practices, we see this trend as an opportunity using a lens mixed with curiosity and caution. While traditional copilots can provide effective code suggestions and auto-completions, vibe coding focuses on a more collaborative and context-aware approach. It involves the use of AI tools through natural language prompts to modify and manage code, introducing a symbiotic relationship between developers and AI," he explained.

Apple Smartwatch shipments decline 19% in 2024

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

APPLE experienced a sharp 19% year-over-year (YoY) decline in global smartwatch shipments in 2024, according to Counterpoint Research's Global Smartwatch Shipment Tracker, Q4 2024.

This marks the second consecutive year of YoY shipment contraction for Apple's smartwatch business.

Notably, India was the only region where Apple recorded shipment growth, underscoring a broader global downturn led by a significant decline in the North American market—Apple's largest, accounting for more than half of its smartwatch shipments.

In the advanced smartwatch segment, Apple's market share fell by 8 percentage points YoY in 2024. Q4 2024 also marked the fifth straight quarter of declining shipments for the tech giant, a period during which major competitors in the advanced smartwatch category posted steady growth.

Lack of New Models

Several factors contributed to Apple's decline. Chief among them was a tepid reception to the Watch Series 10, which offered limited feature upgrades. Compounding the issue was the absence of new versions of the Watch Ultra and Watch SE. The Watch Ultra—Apple's flagship smartwatch—saw its shipment share drop from over 10% to below 8% in Q4 2024. Meanwhile, the Watch SE, typically a strong performer post-launch, was notably missing from the 2024 product cycle. As a result, Q3 2024 became the first quarter in which Apple recorded a YoY decline despite launching a new smartwatch model. The last Watch SE model was released in Q3 2022. Reports suggest that Apple is exploring a design shift for the SE line—potentially replacing its aluminum body with a plastic base—a change believed to have contributed to production delays.

Strategic Focus Required for Recovery in 2025

Looking ahead, Counterpoint analysts emphasize the need for Apple to recalibrate its smartwatch strategy in 2025. Key priorities include the introduction of compelling new features, the timely release of updated Watch SE and Watch Ultra models, and potential design innovations across the product line. With market competition intensifying, the coming year will be pivotal for Apple to reverse its current downward trajectory and regain its leadership in the global smartwatch market.

Gen Z leads the charge in technology adoption and innovation

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

FOUR in ten Gen Z (youths born roughly between the mid-1990s and the early 2010s) individuals are quick to adopt new technologies as soon as they hit the market, according to a recent survey by CyberMedia Research (CMR). The study underscores Gen Z's strong interest in Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Generative AI, as well as their awareness of technology's critical role in shaping the future of smart mobility. Their enthusiasm for experimentation is evident in viral trends like the Ghibli filter, powered by Generative AI, which has captivated millions on social media. This early adoption trend is influencing the wider consumer landscape: nearly half of all consumers are now familiar with AI, and about one in three have already incorporated Generative AI into their daily routines.

"Gen Z is at a remarkable inflection point in history. They are the first globally connected generation, united by a shared fluency in technology. For them, smartphones are not just devices—they are expressions of identity and tools for exploration.

They demand high performance, whether it's for gaming, content creation, or even in their expectations from cars, which they increasingly view as infotainment hubs. Powering all these seamless experiences are the next-generation chipsets," said Prabhu Ram, VP – Industry Research Group (IRG), CyberMedia Research (CMR).

Smartphone Gaming and Smart Mobility on the Rise

According to the survey, 74% of Gen Z gamers spend up to six hours per week playing games on their smartphones. Most discover new games through friends (66%) and social media (55%). Notably, nearly 30% of these gamers prioritize quality over cost, opting for premium gaming experiences.

Competitive gaming is also gaining momentum, with 57% participating in eSports. In the area of smart mobility, 72% of Gen Z respondents recognize the transformative potential of connected vehicles. They expect smart cars to deliver advanced safety features (59%), energy efficiency and sustainability (56%), and fast charging with extended battery life (52%).

Chipsets: The Engine Behind Seamless Experiences

Performance and brand trust are key factors for Gen Z when selecting smartphones, with many willing to invest in devices powered by reliable chipsets such as MediaTek Dimensity and Qualcomm Snapdragon. Brand awareness among Gen Z and Gen Alpha is closely matched for both MediaTek and Qualcomm. MediaTek leads in customer satisfaction at 46%, while Qualcomm maintains a premium brand image, with 40% of its users willing to pay a premium for devices with its chipsets. MediaTek also enjoys greater brand loyalty (50%) and advocacy, with a Net Promoter Score (NPS) of 60, compared to Qualcomm's NPS of 56.
